French Vessel With 40 On Board Lost

WATER DEPARTMENT MEN LAID OFF BY ORDER OF CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION

Five laborers were laid off by the water department last Saturday under orders received by Supt. Robert Gardner from the civil service commission and the department is now handicapped by a labor shortage that threatens to disrupt its schedule of work and leave several jobs unfinished with the coming of the cold weather.

The five laborers laid off were hired six months ago as temporary employees, as the department, it was said, only needed their work during the open months. The six months expired last week and a letter was received ordering their dismissal unless the department wished to put them on as regular and permanent employees.

Mr. Gardner stated today that it would be impossible to do the latter as it would necessitate their being kept in the pay roll during the winter.

GETS DISSOLUTION OF PADLOCK ORDER

The premises of 517 Middlesex street owned by Jacob Fox and recently occupied by the cigar store of Joseph Cayouette are not to be closed for a year under the "padlock law."

Federal Judge Anderson in Boston yesterday by injunction restrained Cayouette and his assistant, Alexander Ducharme, from doing any business at that stand for a term of one year. This injunction was asked by Assistant United States District Attorney Eithu D. Stone, who also asked that the building be designated a common nuisance under the Volstead act and ordered closed.

Attorney Stone's petition was supported by affidavits of prohibition officials, who swore they had purchased liquor there.

Mr. Stone was unsuccessful in effecting the closing of the building for one year. Jacob Fox, the owner of the property, through Attorney Frank Goldman, succeeded in securing a dissolution of the padlock order under the terms of which he may rent the store for other purposes but not to the former tenants.

FLAMES STILL BEYOND CONTROL

Fire Spreads With Terrific Speed Through Mass of Buildings on Water Front

Four Buildings in Ruins at 1 O'Clock With Fire Still Spreading

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 9.—Fire, breaking out and spreading with terrific speed through the mass of buildings along and near the water front at Dyer and Dorrance streets, shortly before noon today, had developed by 1 o'clock into what promised to be the most disastrous conflagration in the city's history.

Four alarms, the last sounded within 25 minutes after the first, brought to the scene nearly every piece of available fire fighting equipment in the city. At 1 o'clock the blaze was still beyond control and spreading.

Buildings completely destroyed up to that time were:

The six-story brick Lewis building, occupied by John D. Peck, Inc., hay and grain dealer.

Plant of the Providence Coal Co., including its big coal pocket.

The large wooden structure formerly used as the trolley freight station and now occupied by John D. Peck, Inc.

The plant of the Eastern Coal Co., was in flames and firemen saw no chance of saving any portion of it.

Across the street the building of Allen & Read, Inc., repeatedly caught fire, while on Dyer street, southerly from the Lewis building, firemen and employees were making desperate efforts to save the contents of the big yard of the Charles C. Gardiner Lumber Co.

CENTRAL BRIDGE PAYMENT HELD UP UNTIL FULL BENCH MAKES DECISION IN MATTER

Judge Crosby in Supreme Court Refuses to Allow Motion of Construction Company That Restraining Order Be Dissolved, Until Such Time as Appeal From Finding of Single Justice is Finally Adjudicated

(Special to The Sun)
BOSTON, Oct. 9.—The Engineering Service and Construction Co. cannot collect or secure any money due from the City of Lowell for work on the reconstruction of the Central bridge until such a time as the full bench of the supreme court finally disposes of the case now appealed from the finding of the single justice.

After hearing arguments today by attorneys for the city, the construction company and Dennis E. Conners, et al., Judge Crosby refused to allow motions presented by Attorney John M. O'Donoghue, asking that the injunction and temporary restraining order now existing be dissolved. Each, therefore, remains in full effect until the full bench makes final disposition of the case.

Judge Crosby asked attorneys for Conners, et al., if they intended to take their appeal before the full bench, and they replied in the affirmative. Mr. O'Donoghue then asked as proof of their good faith that all papers and records in the case be filed on or before Nov. 1, and the judge thought this only fair and said unless these records were filed on or before that date he would dismiss the appeal.

In arguing the motion this morning Attorney O'Donoghue, representing the construction company, declared that the appeal has been taken by Conners, et al., simply for the purpose of delay and is not based on justifiable cause.

William D. Regan, representing the city in the absence of City Solicitor Patrick J. Reynolds, opposed dissolving the injunction and restraining order on the grounds that the city's position would be precarious and uncertain should the money involved be paid before the full court reviewed the case, with a possibility existing for a modification of the decree of the single justice.

The law firm of Buccum & Moughar of Boston, representing Conners, et al., also asked that the motion be denied.

AUTOIST FINED AND SENTENCED FOR DRIVING WHILE UNDER INFLUENCE OF LIQUOR

A sentence of one month in the house of correction and a fine of $100 for operating an automobile while intoxicated, were imposed on Edward C. Cote today by Judge Crosby in the district court. Cote, an employee of the state hospital, is charged with driving while under the influence of liquor, and was arrested after the accident on the night of Sept. 24, when he was taking Joseph Charron, an employee of the state hospital, to that institution from this city. Charron was also arrested after the accident and charged with drunkenness, the first Monday of next month.

Organic diseases charts compiled in the last five years show deaths from some form of heart disease increasing very rapidly.

Intemperate habits in our mode of living and eating, as well as our seeming inability to adapt ourselves to our swiftly moving American civilization are the causes.

Marked invasions are being made also by the so-called blood diseases, or those that affect the blood vessels and the normal blood supply.

Blood disease is a recognized medical question of some significance, as is the study of its causes and effects.

Are there medicines which are blood purifiers?

So much "blood purifier" has been taken during the past 50 years that one naturally would expect a great decrease, instead of an increase, in blood disease.

Properly speaking, there are no blood purifiers. The taking of boneset, wintergreen and pine buds may be all right for punishment or bitter taste, but not for purification of your blood.

Compounds, tonics, bitters and extracts, when they contain about 30 or 40 per cent. of alcohol or some other alcoholic stimulant, make the blood trip a little faster all right, but they do not purify it.

Right living, good plain common food, less tea and coffee, more milk and pure water will purify your blood stream. Combine these with a good fresh air in your living rooms and plenty of out-door deep breathing, plus the right kind of exercise, and you will not have to worry about your depleted blood supply or how you are going to purify it in the spring time or fall.

IRISH NAT'L FORESTERS

Meeting of Members of Merrimack Valley District—

Officers Installed

A.O.H. hall in the Grosvenor building was filled to capacity on last Sunday by members of the Irish National Foresters from the Merrimack Valley district, comprising Lowell, Lawrence and Haverhill. The occasion of this large gathering was the joint installation of the recently elected officers of the O'Neil Crowley and St. Elizabeth branches of Lowell, and also the election of officers for the Merrimack Valley district council. The installation exercises were carried out by the District Chief Ranger, James H. Handley of Lawrence.

The installing officer was efficiently assisted by John J. Holloway of Haverhill, who acted as marshal for the officers of the O'Neil Crowley branch, and Miss Helen Ryan, also of Haverhill, marshal of the St. Elizabeth branch.

At close of the installation when the newly elected officers were ushered to their respective places, perhaps the most interesting of the remarks made were those by Mr. Thos. J. Nevin, who having served as financial secretary for the past fifteen years, was given the honor of chief ranger. Remarks also made by Ed. J. Crome, retiring chief ranger and Joseph J. Handley, incoming financial secretary. A social session followed, the program being arranged by organizer J. L. Handley. The entertainment, following the ceremony included songs by Miss Anna McGovern, Mrs. Kathleen Aubrey, Mrs. Anna Shannahan, Mrs. Patrick Lushan, Mr. Thomas Costello, and readings by Dennis J. Cady of Lawrence and Miss Anna Lombard of Haverhill. Miss Helen Ryan of Haverhill was the accompanist. During an intermission in the program, the genial and capable chief ranger of St. Elizabeth branch, Mrs. Margaret McElroy, was presented beautiful silver comfort set by her associate officers and members. The presentation was made by J. L. Handley, who gave the Helen Ryan, Haverhill and Joseph assurance that the esteem of the Handley, Lowell.

GUNMAN GAVE BLOOD IN RECEPTION FUND NEARS ATTEMPT TO SAVE PAL THE $2000 MARK

DETROIT, Oct. 8.—Jesse Bunker, alias Murphy, alleged gunman and holdup man, was back in his cell at police headquarters after giving a pint of his blood on the operating table in a vain effort to save the life of a fellow prisoner, John Szewczyk, who, fatally wounded in a revolver fight with detectives Sunday night, died a week ago when detectives surprised them in an attempted holdup of a saloon. Bunker, according to police, has confessed participation in more than 200 holdups in Detroit, and has been identified as one of the "Alleged" bandits who, in their fight from the law, shot to death a motor policeman at Monroe, Mich.

The Sullivan reception fund nearly reached the $2000 mark today with two more subscriptions received. The fund stands as follows:

Previously acknowledged	$1912.09
Reuben Danford	5.00
Broadway Social and Athletic Club	50.00

GREETING LLOYD GEORGE

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The imperial conference discussed British foreign affairs for more than five hours yesterday in the light of Foreign Secretary Curzon's recent statement, and at the end of the day decided to tell the public nothing of what had transpired at the session. This secrecy produced the customary crop of rumors, verification of which must wait until the end of the week when it is understood a report will be issued.

Criqui Broke Hand in Bout With Hebrans

PARIS, Oct. 9.—Eugene Criqui fractured his left hand in winning a decision over Henri Hebrans, the youthful Belgian Saturday night, and will be unable to fight for months. It is estimated that Criqui has foregone purses totalling close to 1,000,000 francs in order that he may keep his word to fight for charity. These bouts included three no-decision eight-round matches in the United States. His exhibition tours in Europe in October and November have been abandoned.

Rheumatism—Neuritis

LEAVE YOU FOREVER

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has, therefore, instructed druggists everywhere to dispense ALLERGENIUM with the understanding that he will freely return the purchase money on the first pint bottle to all who state they received no benefit. For sale at A. W. Dows Co. and all druggists.—Adv.

It's Time to Take Celery King

Many doctors say influenza may be with us before springtime.

Get your blood in good condition—that helps.

Take Celery King three times a week for three weeks—that helps.

Give it to the children also, for it's a good, old-fashioned vegetable tea that costs almost nothing, but gently, yet surely regulates the bowels and puts the entire system in fine condition.

Say: "I want Celery King." Your druggist will know he is handing you the king of tonic laxatives.—Adv.

DERRY-MADE Mattresses

DERRY-MADE
sample filler cabinet is a true table of contents, and the only one which illustrates your purchase of a
DERRY-MADE!

EACH Derry-Made mattress, and this is just one more reason why it's a good mattress, is engineered, designed right, then built as you'd build a bridge, layer on layer, tier on tier, of selected, carefully garnetted, cobweb-thin sheets of cotton.

This plan reinforces and multiplies the natural resilience and supporting power of each tiny cotton spring.

Next comes a cross-cross structure, adding extra filler at points of greatest strain, building up and strengthening, again like the bridge, so that the mattress can never break down or develop hollows no matter how long it serves.

Finally come the deep tufts and strong, Derry-Made tufting stitches which lock and bolt this carefully built structure of cotton felt in place; and after a final exacting Derry-Made inspection, out goes a perfectly built mattress, honestly reinforced to resist the abuse of constant use, to support you on countless "Little Journeys" to a dreamland!

If you want a mattress you know has been built—not blown—and "reinforced where the wear comes," you should confine your selection to the Derry-Made cabinet, of course, to guide you to one of the

Autoist Fined and Sentenced

Continued

The complaint was placed on file this morning.

According to Cote's story, Charron approached him in a drunken condition on the night of the affair, and asked him to procure a machine and take him back to the infirmary, as he was due that night. As a matter of accommodation, Cote said, he went to his garage, got his machine and proceeded in the direction of Tewksbury. He denied having taken any liquor during the trip, but said his companion was very drunk.

While attempting to pass another machine on a narrow stretch of road, he said, his car sideswiped the other and crashed into a second machine coming in the opposite direction. He claimed he was thrown out of his seat by the impact and didn't "come to" for about three minutes, when he couldn't recall just exactly what had happened. His face was bleeding from multiple cuts, Charron was unhurt.

Victor Lambert, a friend of Cote's, was returning from Boston at the time and was at the scene of the accident a few minutes after its occurrence. On the witness stand this morning, he stated that Cote appeared to be dazed but there was no evidence of liquor. He volunteered to take the injured man to a doctor for the purpose of dressing his wounds and as Cote insisted on being attended by Dr. McLean, who has an office in Middlesex street, Lambert drove him there. Upon reaching the office, Lambert departed and Cote went upstairs unassisted, only to find that the doctor was not in. It was while awaiting the arrival of the doctor, Cote said, that a friend offered him a drink of liquor out of a bottle. He took it and then went to the hospital, where eight stitches were required to close the several cuts. The only drink he had that night, according to his testimony, was the one he took in the Middlesex street building.

In disposing of the case, Judge Enright said he was satisfied that Cote's story was not true, and returned a finding of not guilty.

Sentence Suspended

Officer Thomas Maloney was called to the home of Peter Bosson in Payette street last night. When he arrived Peter's wife exhibited to him a gas tube, claiming that her husband, in a drunken rage, had beaten her with it. She said he does the same thing every time he gets drunk. Asked for an excuse for his act, Bosson replied that he was drunk and couldn't remember. A five months' sentence in the house of correction was imposed, and the sentence was suspended for a year.

Frank Frost of Needham was fined $5 for operating an automobile without a license. He was driving down Prescott street in the direction of Merrimack last Sunday night, when Officer Owen Conway objected to the speed of his car and asked for the driver's license. Frost produced a certificate which did not contain the necessary signature at the bottom and which had expired several months ago.

Frederick Plouff was found guilty of non-support and was given a suspended sentence of three months in the house of correction with the understanding that he contribute $10 weekly to the support of his family.

Donat Dion, who was arrested yesterday for operating an automobile in a manner to endanger the lives and safety of the public, was continued until Oct. 15.

One violator of the milk law was found guilty and paid a fine of $10. Milk Inspector Melvin Master appeared as the prosecutor and told the court the below standard quality of the defendant's milk might possibly be due to the producer's carelessness.

Violated City Ordinance

Thomas J. Lawlor was fined $5 for violating a city ordinance with regard to parking motor vehicles in the down-town section of the city. Defendant was brought into court on the complaint of Traffic Officer Clyde Aldrich, who testified that Lawlor allowed his machine to stand for minutes in front of Chalifoux's store in Merrimack street between the hours of 5 and 6 o'clock last Saturday night. The ordinance regulating traffic in this area was passed by the municipal council in 1920 and was introduced by Deputy Downey during the trial of the case this morning. It read as follows: "No vehicle shall stop or stand in Merrimack street or Merrimack square, from a point on Merrimack st. that is a 75-foot westerly from its intersection with Central st." As Lawlor's act was in direct violation of this ordinance, the $5 fine was imposed. Judge Enright remarking that the spot chosen was "one of the worst places in the city to park and especially on a Saturday night." Saturday night.

STILL ON DANGEROUS LIST

Bertram Childs, the 11-year-old Littleton boy, who was seriously injured as the result of an automobile accident in Littleton last Sunday, though somewhat improved, is still on the dangerous list at the Lowell General hospital.

EXPLAINS GREAT SPEED WHEN SLEEP DOES NOT REFRESH

Double Camber Wings Enabled Navy Fliers to Make Four Miles a Minute

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 8.—Commander Marc A. Mitscher, U.S.N., who was in charge of the navy entrants in the Pulitzer speed event of the international air races here last Saturday, credits double camber wings with having permitted the navy fliers to attain the unprecedented speed of more than four miles a minute. The double camber wings are convex on both sides, said the commander, increasing the upper and lower lifting surfaces.

It was this new departure in airplane construction which permitted the navy planes to outstrip the army planes, which were of the same pattern, excepting the double camber feature, by as much as 30 miles an hour, he said.

Case of This Salem Woman Presents Characteristic Symptoms of Anemic Condition

When you are losing strength and weight and feel badly all over, when your stomach rebels, sleep is broken and your color fades—when you have all or any of these symptoms you need a tonic for the blood. You require a medicine that will benefit the whole system. The blood reaches every part of the body and when it is built up the whole system benefits.

"I was in a run-down condition and kept losing strength all the time," says Mrs. Mary Goddu, of No. 18 St. Paul street, Salem, Mass. "My trouble was anemia, or thin blood, and although I was treated for a long time and spent a lot of money on medicines I got very little benefit. I was pale and nervous, had no appetite and what I ate did not do me a particle of good. I was cold all the time and if I walked any distance I would be all out of breath. My sleep was broken and I would get up in the morning unrefreshed."

"I was so discouraged that when my sister advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills it was a long time before I started to take them. I am glad now that I waited so long. After the third box of the pills I could see that my strength was returning and that I could sleep better. I had an appetite and food tasted good. Soon my color began to return so that my friends noticed it. My nerves became stronger and I began to put on flesh. I have recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to others and shall use them myself if my blood ever gets thin again."

Write to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for the helpful booklet, "Building Up the Blood." Your local druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 60 cents per box.—Adv.

RUTH ST. DENIS AT AUDITORIUM, OCT. 23

Last January on their first appearance in Lowell, Ruth St. Denis, Ted Shawn and the Denishawn dancers held their audience spellbound. More splendor to dazzle the eye could scarcely be found in the follies. Miss St. Denis and Mr. Shawn displayed the full glory of the dancer's art. There were brilliance, youth, beauty, grace and simplicity to the highest degree. Their program a week from next Tuesday, Oct. 23, will be a new one, and will include the new ballet, "The Spirit of the Sea," "The Hopi Indian Ballet" the score of which was written by Charles Wakefield Cadman, a great ballet creation entitled "Behar of the Seven Gates" and new dances from Spain, Algiers and Bali.

Miss St. Denis has retained several of her best season's phenomenal successes—music visualizations, Spanish Suite, Nocturne, a Toltec drama and Orientalia, including the dances of China, Japan, India, Sumatra and North Africa. There is every indication that the Auditorium will be filled for this performance. Since the appearance of Miss St. Denis and her company last season those who attended at that time have been keenly enthusiastic in their praise. It is a great show wonderfully costumed and staged. Seats are on sale at St. Denis' on Saturday morning, Oct. 13. No telephone orders will be taken for tickets after that date and reservations already made will be held until Monday, October 15, excepting in cases where deposits have been made.

OREGON ORDERED TO LOW LAND MEXICO CITY, Oct. 8.—President Oregon's personal physician announced late last night that the condition of the chief executive remained the same and that although he was not seriously ill, it would be necessary for the patient to leave the extreme altitude of Mexico City for a lower and more propitious climate before a complete cure of the throat trouble could be expected.

DRASTIC DEMANDS MADE OF GERMAN GOVERNMENT BY GROUP OF RUHR INDUSTRIALISTS

Action Follows Consultation Between Hugo Stinnes and Gen. de Gouette—Want Authority to Continue Negotiations With Occupation Officials—Vote of Confidence Given Chancellor Stresemann

BERLIN, Oct. 9.—Important, even drastic, demands were made of the German government today by the group of Ruhr industrialists headed by Hugo Stinnes, who recently were in consultation with General de Gouette, the French commander-in-chief, at Dusseldorf.

Authority to continue negotiations with the occupation officials in the Ruhr was one of these demands.

Provision for longer working hours for German workers both in the mines and above ground was another.

The demands were handed to the government by Herr Stinnes himself.

ed, would be 8½ hours, and above ground 10 hours.

The industrialists also asked what the government's attitude would be toward the creation of a railway company in the occupied territory in which the Rhineland, France and industry would participate.

Vote of Confidence

BERLIN, Oct. 9.—Having given Chancellor Stresemann a vote of confidence in the face of opposition by the nationalists, the communists and the Bavarian people's party, the Reichstag today considers the measure that gives the government extraordinary authority in dealing with economic and financial problems. The bill was approved yesterday by the Reichstag or Imperial council.

Chancellor Stresemann's victory in obtaining a vote of confidence was strengthened by the rejection of a resolution to abolish the state of emergency in the Reich and in Bavaria, and by the passage of a socialist resolution endorsing the government's constitutional attitude toward exceptional measures in Bavaria.

There was a turbulent scene in the Reichstag yesterday when Count Westarp, the German nationalist, criticizing the central government, demanded "a breach of relations with France with all its consequences." Westarp's supporters applauded and shouted "war," which called forth a demonstration in opposition from the left.

Hugo Stinnes writing in the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, his own newspaper, expressed the opinion that Germany would have been better served by a cabinet of non-partisan experts than by the reconstructed coalition ministry which, he feels, may not have sufficient authority to accomplish needed reforms.

Water Department

Men Laid Off

months, when there is no call for their services and he removed their names from the payroll, the only thing left for him to do.

He has since received another letter ordering him to lay off 4 more who were hired under the same circumstances and is at his wit's end to know what to do to keep his department going. The four mentioned in the letter have not been laid off as yet and Mr. Gardner is writing a letter to the commission asking it to reconsider its decision and allow him to keep them on the payroll for at least six weeks more and to hire back the five who were laid off last Saturday.

Speaking of the matter today, he said: "I am doing my best to comply with the rules and regulations of the civil service commission but the condition now is such that I do not know just what to do. The water department hires every year a number of laborers to do the outside work during the summer months, such as extending mains, laying new service pipes, erecting hydrants, etc. These men are needed for this work but they are not needed for the winter months as there is no outside work to do that cannot be done by the regular force. Under the rulings of the civil service commission the city is allowed to hire men temporarily for periods not in excess of six months, after which time they become regular and permanent employees and must be kept on the payroll regularly."

Mr. Gardner added that at this time of the year it would be poor policy to hire new men under the six months' rule of the commission as they could not carry on the work as quickly as the men who have been working on the job all summer. If permission is granted him by the commission to re-employ the men laid off last week and keep the four mentioned in the latest letter as due for removal, the department can easily finish its schedule, otherwise the work will remain undone.

This is not the first time that this condition has come up in the water department. Last year a number of men were laid off before the cold weather because of orders issued by the civil service commission, and Supt. Gardner believes that some change will have to be made in their regulations concerning his department if he is to carry out the schedule of work laid out for him in a reasonable length of time and at the minimum of expense.

CONTINUE PROBE OF DEATH CASE

Grand Jury Disregards Suggestion of District Attorney to Drop Investigation

Jury Wants Chas. Webb, Husband of Dead Woman, to Tell His Side of Case

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Oct. 9.—The Westchester county grand jury will continue its investigation into the circumstances surrounding the death of Mrs. Gertrude Emily German Webb, wealthy New York and Philadelphia society woman, despite the fact that medical experts testified yesterday that sufficient poison had not been found in the body to have caused death.

After the seven doctors had finished their testimony, declaring that the corrosive substances discovered in the dead woman's vital organs could not have caused her death without contributory causes, it was stated on good authority that District Attorney Howland suggested that the investigation be dropped. The jury, disregarding his suggestion, demanded that more witnesses be summoned.

So far almost all those heard by the grand jury except the medical experts have been of the opinion that Mrs. Webb met death under mysterious circumstances. The jury now wants to hear the other side of the case, and asked that Charles H. Webb, husband of the wealthy society woman, be given an opportunity to tell his side of the story. Mr. Webb was invited to appear tomorrow.

The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made

Here's an easy way to save $2, and yet have the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? When you do, you will understand why thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and clean, but the way it takes hold of a cough will quickly earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Grand Dragon Jewett Arraigned on Charge of Rioting at Oklahoma City

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 8.—(By the Associated Press) Grand Dragon, N. J. Jewett, the highest officer of the K.K.K. in Oklahoma, will be arraigned in justice court today for preliminary hearings on a charge of rioting in connection with a flooding here a year ago in which he is alleged to have participated. He is the first officer of the secret organization to fall into the net spread by Gov. J. C. Walton for those responsible for mob violence and masked demonstrations in the state.

Grand Dragon Jewett was arrested Sept. 21, on the basis of evidence adduced by a military court which functioned under the governor's decree of martial law.

Since his arrest Jewett has been at liberty on $1000 bonds. He pleaded not guilty.

RUSH TO ASSISTANCE OF GROUND SHIP

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 8.—In a message picked up by the Federal Telegraph Co., here at 4:30 a. m., the motor ship Kennecott, a cargo carrier of 5010 deadweight tons, reported herself "high and dry on rocks" at a point near the boundary between Alaska and British Columbia. Owned by the Alaska Steamship Co., the Kennecott carries a crew of 20.

The steamship Northwestern was reported rushing to the Kennecott's assistance from an unknown position. The Kennecott was en route to Seattle from the Orient via Alaska. She was in Japanese waters at the time of the earthquake, and for two days was reported lost, finally appearing at Kobe.

The tide was in when the Kennecott went aground and heavy seas pounded her before the tide ebbed.

The passenger steamer Queen which last night was reported near the point where the Kennecott grounded was unable early today to move because of a cracked cylinder, she stated. The Queen said she was anchored safely. She carries a crew of 45 and is believed to have comparatively few passengers.

HEAVY FLOOD DAMAGE IN OKLAHOMA CITY

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 8.—Oklahoma City's flood hazard has increased hourly today as another rise, in the North Canadian river swept down to augment the swollen stream which for three days has overspread the lowlands. Scores of families have been driven from their homes by the water which stands 10 to 15 feet deep in some places; railroad service southward from Oklahoma City has been seriously hampered; street car tracks and paving have been swept away and the most direct artery of communication with Packerstown, the packing center in the southern section of the city, has been severed.

The river, normally only a score of feet wide, is a raging torrent a half-mile in width.

Boats are being used to save livestock and other domestic animals. So far as can be determined, there has been no loss of life.

FRIEND OF NURSE WHO WAS SLAIN HELD

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 8.—Walter Haule, a close friend of Miss Elsie Barthel, a nurse who was slain early Sunday in the old Hussey mansion, was to be further questioned by police today. Alonzo Savage, negro voodoo doctor, is alleged to have confessed to killing the nurse by striking her with a brick when she refused him payment for "curing her love illness."

Detectives admit there is no tangible evidence on which to hold Haule, but the finding of two of Miss Barthel's handkerchiefs in his pocket and alleged discrepancies of his stories told before and after Savage's arrest have caused his detention. Police are also investigating Savage's story that he entered a taxi cab driven by Haule after leaving the scene of the slaying.

Ladybirds are bred in Italy and France to produce the larvae which destroy insect pests of the vines.

Modern living takes Advantage

of every convenience. Modern life is filled with conveniences. There have been bakeries for many centuries—professional baking is not a new convenience—baking on the present day scale is new. There is no reason for any home or family to be without the simple luxury of well baked cake. Drake's Cake is one of life's modern conveniences.

EXCAVATIONS ARE BEGUN

Laborers Start Work for Recovery of Bodies of Gen. Oglethorpe and Wife

CRANHAM, Eng., Oct. 8.—Excavations under the channel of the Church of All Saints here for the recovery of the bodies of General James E. Oglethorpe and his wife were begun this morning. A number of local laborers, directed by Dr. Thornwall, Jacobs, president of Oglethorpe university, who seeks to have the remains reinterred in Georgia, and the Rev. Leslie Wright, rector of the church, broke through the concrete flooring with crowbars and sledge hammers similar to those used in perforating the tomb of Pharaoh Tutankhamun at Luxor.

The workmen encountered heavy layers of stone and mortar and it is expected that two or three days must elapse before the bodies can be reached.

COMMUNICATION

To all citizens, including law makers and those having the execution of the laws, who have the welfare of children at heart and who recognize the lawlessness of the present generation.

Lawlessness has become so general throughout the state that it behooves us to find out the cause and help to remedy the evil.

Is it the fault of inadequate laws or the fault of those appointed to see that the laws are obeyed, or the indifference and apathy of citizens in general?

Under the law as administered, the police say they are powerless. The children believe it and defy owners of property to touch them.

The question is: Is there a law that enables the owners of property, or tenants of property to detain children (from seven to seventeen years of age) caught in the act of trespassing, stealing fruit and vegetables, breaking windows, setting fires, damaging property, etc., and to send for a policeman who will take them to the police station. Will the law permit compulsion of parents or guardian with the offender to appear before the juvenile court and to be required by the judge to pay damages on the spot if they do not want any publicity or delay in the matter?

If parents pay damages for mischief committed by their children, they will soon find a way to bring the matter to terms; if they are not able to do this, the state steps in.

Unless authority is given property owners and tenants to detain an offender until a policeman can be called, the chances are but one in a thousand that the policeman will find the offender.

If there is such a law as here suggested.

"Some time ago I had a very serious nervous breakdown. I was in such a debilitated condition that an infection of my blood followed an attack of ulcerative sore throat, and I began to lose weight and strength at an alarming rate. As my condition grew worse, it became impossible for me to get a full night's sleep.

When my nervousness and weakness became almost unbearable I began taking Wincarnis, and the improvement was very noticeable before I had finished the first bottle. I am now myself again, and both my father and my son are taking Wincarnis because they have seen how wonderfully it acted in my case. Wincarnis is certainly a remarkable tonic for those suffering from nervous exhaustion, thin blood, sleeplessness or great debility."

ADDING TO THE SPAN OF LIFE

This week two great health events are in progress in Boston. One is the meeting of the American Public Health association and the other, the Boston Health Show, which opened last Saturday. It behooves the citizens of Lowell to watch the newspapers for the doings of the Public Health association, as its deliberations are of the utmost importance not only to municipalities but also to individual citizens and health officials as showing the progress made in the science and art of safeguarding and conserving the health of the people at every point and every age. This includes prenatal hygiene and infant welfare, school hygiene and industrial hygiene, mental hygiene and social hygiene, the gospel of pure food, fresh air, exercise and rest, together with the more obvious attempts to prevent or control the spread of epidemics.

Already medical science as represented by the association now in session in Boston has lifted one-third of the burden of disease that beset our forefathers of a century ago. It is now estimated that ten years can be easily added to the span of human life by closer attention to the scientific principles of health and hygiene, sanitation and disease prevention.

The medical men have already conquered many diseases and they are steadily gaining upon others which in time will also be placed under control if not entirely eliminated. If the people would co-operate with the American Medical association in applying the principles of hygienic living as illustrated at the Boston Health Show and in the clinics of the various medical institutions, the results would be even greater than the most sanguine health worker has ventured to predict.

AN EDUCATIONAL QUESTION

United States Senator David I. Walsh in an address delivered at Pittsfield, Conn., in an uncertain terms the Sterling-Towner educational bill as against the interests of education generally; an encroachment upon the rights of the states and likely to make education a political football throughout the country. The address was delivered before the annual convention of the Berkshire County Teachers' association. This is one of the measures favored by the political plotters who want to build up a great system of bureaucracy at Washington to control not only the education of the people but to authorize interference in their domestic affairs as provided for under the Shepard-Towner bill. In each of these measures there is something in the nature of a bribe offered to the states in order to secure their co-operation with a system which unless for the more backward states, would be utterly against their best interests.

It is to be regretted that the National Educational association has favored the Sterling-Towner bill, yet this is not at all strange when it is considered that various states in the west and south which expend very little for education, see in the passage of this measure a chance to compel the northern states to contribute largely to the work of raising the educational standard in all the unprogressive states. If Georgia or the Carolinas do not see fit to maintain a respectable school system, this first should not warrant any draft upon the financial resources of the northern states that expend money most liberally for the advancement of every branch of education within their own borders. Education is becoming more expensive from year to year and the northern states have enough to do to take care of their own educational institutions without helping to lift those of the south to the northern level.

CHILD LABOR AMENDMENT

When the United States supreme court recently declared the last Child Labor law unconstitutional, Chief Justice Taft, suggested that a constitutional amendment giving congress the power to pass such a law, was the best way of solving the problem. In accordance with that suggestion, an amendment based upon drafts drawn up by Senators Lodge, McCormick and Johnson, is to be introduced at the next session of congress with prospects of success. The southern states have always opposed the child labor legislation for the reason that they will be chiefly affected by the proposed change.

The need of such an amendment is obvious from the fact that over a million children between ten and fifteen years of age were at work in the United States as shown by the census of 1920. That census, however, did not include the vast numbers of little ones from six to ten years old employed in the sugar beet, onion and cotton fields. In the street trades, and tenement workshops. Nor does it include the thousands of children who were permitted to return to the mills and factories after the former child labor law was declared void. The future of this country demands that the children of every state should have a fair opportunity for growth, play and education. It is also important that a uniform child labor law should be applied to all the states in order to prevent unfair competition such as exists at the present time between the textile factories of Massachusetts and those of the south in which children are employed from ten to eleven hours a day.

It is important that Massachusetts should make her influence felt in support of such an amendment and in observance of child labor week. Lowell should make her voice heard with no uncertain sound in support of this movement, to put a stop to the exploitation of children in industry and for the promotion of education, for a more rugged manhood and better American citizenship.

In no other state of the Union is child labor so rapidly outlawed as in Massachusetts. The compulsory school law requires that the children remain at school from the age of seven till fourteen and that between the ages of fourteen and sixteen, they must attend a continuation school for part of the time. All pupils are required to complete the sixth grade before leaving school; but even if they have completed the ninth grade or graduated from the high school under sixteen, they will be obliged to attend the continuation school at least one afternoon per week. That arrangement should insure to each child a fair education which can be supplemented by attendance at the various evening schools. Thus it is plain that no factory in Massachusetts can employ child labor without incurring the penalty of the law. If such laws were provided in every other state of the Union we should soon see an end of slavery in the United States.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

We are now observing Fire Prevention week with a view to reducing fire hazards and the loss of life and property by preventable fires. A total of 15,000 lives and over half a million dollars' worth of property is a high price to pay for carelessness and stated, however, by prominent clergymen from this country that the wave of materialism of which Lloyd George speaks has not reached England. Indeed, it is said that the horrors and sacrifices made during the World war, have had the effect of awakening a deeper religious feeling throughout England. In that, England is fortunate. We surmise that Lloyd George's reference to materialism was based chiefly upon conditions in Russia, Germany and Turkey, in all of which the war has brought a reversion to irreligion and materialism.

But we must be grateful to Lloyd George for his promise not to write a book about us. Many distinguished British visitors who made a hasty tour of our country and enjoyed our hospitality, hastened to write books about us on their return and in which they said some very nasty things. The performance of Dickens was not so bad, but Kipling showed a contempt for everything American and the same might be said of various other visitors of lesser note. Even Chesterton is to be included in the class that with very superficial knowledge of our customs proceeded to criticize Americans as if he had lived here for years.

Lloyd George has shown tact by announcing that he has no intention of writing his impressions of America. It will relieve Americans who are to receive him, of the dread of being made the subject of his criticism when he returns home. The ex-premier is too much of a politician to do anything of that kind.

AIR IN CITIES

City air has as much as 100 million particles of dust to the cubic foot, but this drops to about 5 million particles on a clear morning after the air has been "washed" by a rain. Who did the washing? An unnamed John on the payroll of the weather bureau.

The dust consists of fragments of rubber tires, lime, germs, earth, shoe leather, etc. When you consider city life from all sides, the wonder is that we have so little illness.

Truck gardeners notice that vegetables growing near cities are contracting more plant diseases year after year. Man pollutes the atmosphere so that even plant life has difficulty being in it.

Our congested civilization, with its machinery, is a generator of poison gases and the worst of these is auto exhaust.

WEATHER FORECASTS

It is possible that, in the future, the weather forecaster will be able to predict as far as a month ahead. So claims the weather bureau, which already has had considerable success in this direction, sometimes striking it right three out of four times, in forecasting both temperature and rainfall.

Maybe this would have considerable commercial value. But it would make life duller for one of the most interesting features of existence is the uncertainty of the weather. The future loses most of its charm when it becomes too certain—too out-and-out.

CHILDREN

Many of the money troubles of that well-known institution, the American home, are due to allowing sons and daughters to live there without paying board. So claims Miss Oller, home economics adviser of a big eastern bank. She apparently has an incorrect notion of the number of families permitting this board-free arrangement. But she's on the right track.

It is unfair to children, not to train them for responsibility. A child should work for everything it gets. The kind of work, or the amount, doesn't matter—just so he learns that money is the result of someone's labor.

CITY WATER BILLS

The city council would be justified in passing an ordinance that will make water bills a lien on the property on which the water was used. Lowell has a splendid water supply, but it is an expensive one and for that reason the department cannot allow it to be wasted or to be used by people who do not pay for it. Where property changes hands quite frequently there is sometimes a misunderstanding as to who should pay the water bills. If the bills are made a lien on the property the city will always be sure of payment.

No, the High School Alumni will not show a narrow spirit in renting Alumni Field for Sunday football, providing the law be enforced. That is fair enough. It should not be expected that the alumni would be a party to any infraction of the law. Indeed the leaders in charge of the park would wish that the law were not so strict in regard to admission fees and charges of any kind.

The fact that nearly 1000 have already enrolled in the evening classes of the Textile school, indicates a very general desire on the part of mill operatives to improve their condition in life. This they can do by acquiring the technical skill necessary to enable them to attain higher positions. The Textile school offers a great opportunity to mill workers.

The Spanish War Veterans of Lowell will doubtless make a grand showing in the Boston parade on Friday in observance of the 25th anniversary of the war. It was a small war, but men who died in it could make no greater sacrifice for their country. Let us honor their memory and honor the men who gave Cuba her freedom.

It seems that despite the efforts of the police, the bootleggers are doing business in and around Lowell. We are not as badly off in this respect as some other cities but conditions call for increased activity on the part of the police.

Apparently the autoists were endeavoring to take advantage of one of the last ideal week-ends of the fall season on their Sunday tours. As a result we had an unusually large number of accidents. Nevertheless, the cause is small.

SEEN AND HEARD

After days like the last two or three it is easy to see how fall rivals spring in beauty.

Is the rejuvenation of high school football in Lowell at hand? We hope so.

One or two thoughts to keep in mind. The Red Cross campaign for Japanese relief is still on, and the High School Alumni association needs a few hundred more dollars for Alumni field.

A committee of Lowell men and women are interested in child labor legislation. General public support is needed and the cause is worthy.

Lowell's now famous Central bridge was back in supreme court again today. And all this over a reconstruction job. Lucky a new structure was not built, or unlucky, which is it?

A Thought
They have sown the wind, and they shall reap the whirlwind.—Hos. 8:7.
Consequences are unifying. Our deeds carry their terrible consequences, quite apart from any fluctuations that event before consequences that are hardly ever confined to ourselves.—George Eliot.

Ought to Be Easy to Find

One entire brick pile, containing 2000 red bricks, was stolen from the yard of a Providence (R. I.) building supply company. Half of the brick pile disappeared one night, and the thieves performed the unexpected and took the remainder on the following night.

The Hub of the Green
Playing the "ball as she lies" is an old rule of golf. Charles Handy of Lynn, a member of the Salem Golf Club, was a good sport, and rather than take the one stroke penalty climbed a tree and played the ball that his previous drive had lodged there. Just as he did the limb broke and he tumbled to the ground and broke his nose.

"Grey Rocks and Greyer Sea"
Grey rocks and greyer sea—
And surf along the shore—
And in my heart a name
My lips shall speak no more.

The high and lonely hills
Endure the darkening year—
And in my heart endure—
A memory and a tear.

Across the tide a sail
That tosses, and is gone—
And in my heart the kiss
That lingers dreams upon.

Grey rocks, and greyer sea,
And surf along the shore—
And in my heart the kiss
That I shall see no more.

CHARLES G. D. ROBERTS.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

"Concord High, Welcome!" That was the inscription on a large and conspicuous sign along the fence at Alumni field last Saturday during the Lowell high-Concord (N. H.) high football game. Those three words meant more to the visitors than the most voluminous cheering and they showed that the local high school athletic authorities are sportsman clean through. It was about a year ago that George Sheehan, present captain of the Lowell team, sustained a broken leg in the annual tilt with the New Hampshire-lites. Nothing was too good for the Lowell boys during his confinement in a Concord hospital, the high school students of that city even sending him flowers and other gifts. It was but fitting then, that Lowell should "Welcome, Concord High!"

Club life is picking up now with cooler weather setting in. The young fellows who forgot the club, yes, even the dues, many of them, during the summer months are commencing to drift around these cool evenings. As a result, the summer silence in the odd corners is ended and billiard tournaments and tournaments, dances and all sorts of peppy parties are being planned. The old fellows can keep the club a-going and make good balance wheels but it takes youth to start the wheels flying.

Clubs are not alone gaining in the number of daily visitors. Drop into the public library today and you'll find less vacant chairs than you could have noted any time in the past four months.

Could anyone desire more delightful weather than we have had the past few days. Autumn is here, in all its splendor and once again we hear the shot of the hunter echo through the forest; the nervous rustle of the leaves in the tempting breeze; and the occasional twitter of the birds basking in the warmth of the inviting sun. It is ideal weather for motoring, especially through the winding roads which lead one into the woods. Autumn is one of the most beautiful seasons of the year, but to appreciate its magnificence, one must get out in the wilds, among the birds, and the lavish beauties of Nature.

In connection with Fire Prevention Week it is noted that the schools are not forgetting the need of fire drills. I have noticed several such drills during the past fortnight in my journeys about the city with both public and parochial schools awake to the need of them. As disciplinary and precautionary measures they rank high. The need of such drills is especially keen at this time of the year, particularly in the lower grade schools where so many pupils find themselves in a big company for the first time.

The prescription that doctors have been giving to run-down patients for years, namely, that of playing golf, has proven such a health builder that the physicians themselves are taking up the game, one after another. And some of them are proving themselves mighty good players, notably Dr. M. L. Alting, who inside of two years has risen to a doctor takes his own prescription. It is safe for his patient to follow suit.

"PADLOCK" PROVISIONS OF VOLSTEAD ACT

An injunction was issued by Judge George W. Anderson in federal court in Boston yesterday against Joseph Cayouette, proprietor of a store at 517 Middlesex street, this city, and his assistant, Alexander Ducharme, ordering them to vacate the premises for a year. This was the first time the "padlock" provisions of the Volstead act were applied by a federal court in this state.

The injunction was sought by Assistant United States District Attorney Elhu D. Stone, who asked that the buildings designated be adjudged a common nuisance. The petition was supported by prohibition agents who testified that they had obtained liquor there.

Investigation here today revealed the fact that Cayouette gave up the business two weeks ago. Although on two occasions injunctions have been issued against druggists restraining them from selling liquor for a year, yesterday's order was the first in which an injunction was issued closing a place of business.

LOWELL UNIT OF 94TH SALESMANSHIP COURSE

DIVISION EXPANDS

OPENS AT Y. M. C. A.

Capt. Joseph M. Reilly of Co. B, 37th Infantry of the 94th Division, Organized Reserves, has announced the promotion of Private James M. Burns to sergeant in the company. Sgt. Burns, who is employed as a compositor on The Lowell Sun, has spent two summers at the Citizens Military Training Camp at Devens and the experience thus gained well qualifies him for the position.

Capt. Reilly also announces that there are still a few non-commissioned officers' posts to be filled in the company and he will gladly receive applications from any young men qualified to fill these positions. Applications for membership in private in the company will also be considered by Capt. Reilly but these must come from young men who have had some infantry experience. It is the aim of the officials to have quality rather than quantity, in order to maintain the high standard of efficiency already established by this division.

Capt. Reilly, who saw service during the World war, being one of the first young men in Lowell to enlist in the United States forces, is proud of his organization which he says compares favorably with any other reserve organization in the country. In fact, he says that his whole aim has been to maintain the general high standard for which the 94th division is noted in military circles.

Co. B was the first reserve company assigned to Lowell, and the 94th Division was among the first whose insignia was recognized by the war department. The division headquarters are located at the customs house in Boston, and the regimental headquarters are in Lynn. Col. Bolles, commanding officer of the division, was one of the leading field officers of the army during the World war, and is recognized as a master military strategist.

Col. Bolles is a severe task master, so far as his subordinate officers are concerned, and he insists that his men faithfully keep up in their course of instructions. This course is prescribed by the war department for all officers in the reserve organization. It is a careful theoretical training in military tactics, which are put into execution during the summer camping period. The high standard of the division was recognized by the war department upon the close of last summer's camp by Sec. Weeks of the war department.

Applications for enlistment or information may be addressed to Capt. Reilly, 201 Pleasant street.

PINEHURST CAMP DESTROYED BY FIRE

A camp in Billerica near Pinehurst was razed and about sixty acres of scrub land burned over yesterday by a fire which started at about noon and resisted the combined efforts of the Billerica, Bedford and Burlington firemen until late last evening.

Starting near Pinehurst at the Shawheen river, which is not much wider than a brook at this point, the fire soon jumped the river and burned over about 15 acres in Billerica. Spreading into Bedford, about 40 acres were burned over and in Burlington about 5 acres were also burned. The only no carry loss was the camp, the owner of which is not known.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
There is much to praise and little to censure in the program at B. F. Keith's theatre this week. Six acts of snappy entertainment and a feature motion picture showing here (for the first time) make up a vaudeville salad of unusual worth.

As a headline attraction Miss Julia Nash and Mr. C. H. O'Donnell return to the city in a one-act skit of brilliant repartee captioned "Mama's Car." The tragic attempt of a wife to learn to drive an automobile, a collision with a Rolls-Royce hardly ten blocks from home and the ravings, criticism and suggestions of the husband as to how "it should have been done," give easy opportunity for a conversational sketch brimful of comedy. Miss Nash and Mr. O'Donnell take every advantage of the situations which arise and provide 20 minutes of delightful entertainment. In a small sustaining part Miss Marjorie Dow is most capable.

For synchronizing melodies exceptionally well sung the team of Combe and Nevins ranks with the best. They are a pair of well groomed lads possessing pleasing voices that blend together easily and the numbers they elected to sing last night instantly found recognition and appreciation.

A couple of cake eaters from "Upper Lakeview avenue," full of new dancing steps and with ability to put over a song as a sure-fire hit—that's Lytell and Pant. Their interpretation of "He Loves Me" was the best we ever have heard locally and their other selections ranked just as high. As a dancing team, too, they are at the top of the deck.

Speaking of decks, that is, decks of cards, consider Arthur Lloyd, the traveling card index system. Here is a novelty sure enough and one that will carry an appeal all through the week. Unhappily, "comedy" from the gallery last night did not help him any, but hopefully this will be eliminated.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

by the management for the balance of the week.

The stars and dancers of Scotland are revived again—they never grow old—by Miss Jessie Blair Shirling and her eight Glasgow maids, resplendent in kilts and tartan, playing bagpipes and drums. It is one of the best acts of its kind now in vaudeville, which is saying considerable.

Sensational work on aerial rings is done by Homer Romane in opening the show.

The feature motion picture, "Pioneer Trails," shows Cullen Landis and Alice Cathoun with a capable supporting staff in a drama of the west of 60 years ago. Thrill follows thrill in endless procession and the Vitaphone company spread nothing in its attempt to make it a screen epic. The Pathé News Weekly, "Tories of the Day" and an Aerop Photo are the other picture features.

On Columbus day (Friday) there will be three shows, at 1.30, 4.45 and 8 p. m.

HIALEO THEATRE

More pictures like "The Flirt" which is now showing at the Hialeo, and there would be no more motion picture censors. Clean, brilliant and dramatic, "The Flirt" is one of the best pictures ever offered a public as an antidote for sin, sorrow and slumber. Booth Tarkington wrote it as a vivid cross-section of American family life. It was filmed at Universal City and the direction of Hobart Henly and is released as a Universal-Jewel production with a cast that is entitled to be called "all-star."

"The Flirt" is a story of the folks next door, the kind of folks who ask a blessing at the dinner table and dress up on Sunday and laugh with life through tears. The story opens with the Madisons at the dinner table. Father at the head, daughters on either side and a kid brother where we could almost reach out and box his little ears.

Cora, "The Flirt" begins her conquest for hearts and her quest for power. Eileen Percy plays the role brilliantly. Laura, her sister, is established as the sacrificing girl of hidden emotions. Helen Jerome Eddy is admirably suited. George Nichols, as the father, is heroic. The unfolding of the story finds him battling against Cora's selfish greed and brutal pride in enough money to keep his home together and his name clean. Other members in the cast who deserve special mention are, Buddy Messenger, who, by the way is the best laugh getter we have seen in some time, Harold Goodwin, Ed Hearn and Lloyd Whitlock, one of the screen's best known villains.

If you like good, strong and virtuous outdoor pictures you will go into superlatives when you see "Table-Top Ranch" starring Neil Hart, which is the second feature on the bill. The theme of this western picture deal with a band of cattle rustlers, who are in the end captured by Neil Hart, but not until many thrilling and exciting adventures and obstacles have been encountered. As said above, if you like action, combined with some regular "he-man" acting, you'll like "Table-Top Ranch."

"Speed Bugs" as the name would indicate is an extremely funny comedy and it contains plenty of good laughs. Many unusually good stunts and comedy gags are shown in this new Century comedy and they never fail to hit the mark. A Pathé News, with all the latest events from all parts of the

Easier to Iron With—

EVERY Housewife takes great pride in the dainty, fresh appearance of her linens.

It is often difficult to get good results with ordinary starch that forms a sticky jelly when it cools. For this pasty starch clots and smears when you try to iron clothes.

All this is now overcome with Linit, the remarkable new starch discovery.

Linit is a scientific starch—distinctly different from ordinary, old-fashioned starches. Linit gives that soft, cool, pliable finish to all fabrics, making even cotton goods look and feel like expensive linen.

Linit makes a THIN, "MILKY" MIXTURE, free-running like water, which is quickly absorbed by the fabric, thus saving the time and labor of "smearing on", which was customary with the old-fashioned starches. The Linit mixture does not present the stiff, jelly-like appearance of ordinary starch. This is why you will find it easier to iron with Linit.

98 OUT OF EVERY 100 WOMEN BENEFITED

An Absolutely Reliable Statement Important to Every Woman

Remarkable Results Shown by a Nation Wide Canvass of Women Purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. 50,000 Women Answer

For some time a circular has been enclosed with each bottle of our medicine bearing this question: "Have you received benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?"

Replies, to date, have been received from over 50,000 women answering that question.

98 per cent of which say YES. That means that 98 out of every 100 women who take the medicine for the ailments for which it is recommended are benefited by it.

This is a most remarkable record of efficiency. We doubt if any other medicine in the world equals it. Think of it—only two women out of 100 received no benefit—98 successes out of a possible 100.

Did you ever hear anything like it? We must admit that we, ourselves, are astonished.

Such evidence should induce every woman suffering from any ailment peculiar to her sex to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and see if she can't be one of the 98. The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Of course we know that our medicine does benefit the large majority of women who take it. But that only two out of 100 received no benefit is most astonishing.

It only goes to prove, however, that a medicine specialized for certain definite ailments—not a cure all—one that is made by the most scientific process; not from drugs, but from a combination of nature's roots and herbs, can and does do more good than hastily prepared prescriptions.

You see, we have been making, improving and refining this medicine for over 50 years until it is so perfect and so well adapted to women's needs that it actually has the virtue to benefit 98 out of every 100 women who take it.

Its reliability and recognized efficiency has gained for it a sale in almost every country in the world—leading all others.

HOYT AND NEHF MAY PITCH OPENING WORLD SERIES GAME

BUTLERS AND CADETS MEET FRIDAY IN CLASH FOR AMATEUR FOOTBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

The eyes of the local amateur football world will be turned to Alumni field next Friday afternoon (Columbus day) when the time honored rivals, the Butler and the Cadet, will engage in the season's first championship game in the race for the championship. A year ago, the Butlers annexed the championship and were awarded the Frank Ryan trophy in token of their accomplishment. It is estimated that nearly 15,000 fans witnessed these ancient struggles featuring these ancient rivals last year, the first game resulting in a tie, and the final game being captured by the Cadets.

Some of the best football ever seen in Lowell developed during these historic battles and, from all indications, history is due to repeat itself this season. At the present time, the military men seem to have the edge. This conclusion is based on the fact that they have materially strengthened their line with the acquisition of Art LeMoine, Dan Coughlin and Taplin, three of the heaviest and most rugged warriors wearing blue today. In addition to these, the backfield is improved by the signing of the signing of McKimsey of Textile school and Johnny Murphy, late of St. John's Prep. The team also has the advantage of having engaged in a greater number of contests this year than the Butlers. The Cadet team has lined up on three successive Sundays and pulled through with a win on each occasion, while the Butlers have two victories to their credit against mediocre talent.

Be that as it may, the Butlers will not concede victory in the game. The Cadet street aggregation showed last year that they had plenty of courage and stamina and could withstand their own against the opposition. With a backfield composed of such experienced players as Loughead, Rogers, Britton and Conway, the red jerseyed athletes will present a shifty bunch of men and a crowd capable of outgunning all kinds of opposition.

By piling up a 43 to 0 score against the Butlers last Sunday, the Cadets showed that they still possess the signal kicking touch to register touchdowns. Although the team will enter the Cadet game minus the services of their first-string quarterback, Red O'Leary, the signal kicking touch will be well taken care of by McLaughlin, who is satisfactorily filling the vacancy caused by O'Leary's departure from the city.

Pontes Versus O'Leary

Speaking of championships, the Pontes and O'Leary of Centralville have a little argument which comes up for definite settlement on the Lakeview avenue grounds next Sunday. Both teams are well fortified in the matter of linemen and fast backfield men. While comparatively little is known of the Cadets' ability, their supporters already are forecasting victory. The Pontes learned to fame in the first game of the season when they held the O. M. Cadets, a much heavier team, to three touchdowns, and later gave the St. Peter's Cadets one of the hardest battles of their careers. Last Sunday the Pontes came into their own, whipping the St. Peter's Indian Seconds by a 6 to 0 score.

The O'Leary's highest boast is a 6 to 0 victory at the expense of the Cadets a week ago last Sunday. Ever since football began to claim the attention of the sports loving populace, Centralville's citizens, young and old, have waged verbal arguments over the caliber of the two teams. The words have suddenly changed to money, real cash, and bets are being placed in all sections of Jersey on a 50 to 50 basis.

To settle the matter, all the earmarks of a championship match, the respective managements have requested the park authorities to clear the Lakeview avenue stadium of debris and rope and the gridiron. All that remains now is a clear day, and then—watch them!

Who'll Be Notre Dame's New Star?

BROWN

By N.E.A. Service
SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 9.—(Gipp-Mohardt-Castner)—

During the last three years of football campaigning Notre Dame has always presented one of the big stars of the game as the pivot point of its team. Gipp, Mohardt and Castner were grouped in advance. Opponents learned to prepare for the Notre Dame star.

This year the Irish squad faces its greatest season. Army, Princeton, Georgia Tech, Purdue, Nebraska, Butler and Carnegie Tech will be faced on consecutive Saturdays.

Needing a Gipp, Mohardt or Castner as he never did before, Coach Hoke is without a man who looms superior to the rest of the backfield.

Jimmy Crowley, Dutch Bergman, Max Houser and Jimmy Layden are the candidates for the triple-threat position. Crowley, Bergman and Houser are working out at the left half, which Gipp and Mohardt made famous. Layden stepped into Castner's place at fullback when the latter was hurt last season.

Crowley is the man of the quarter most fragrant with possibilities. In the early season games of last year's campaign he gave promise of being one of the big flashes of the season. His work retarded as teams began to lay for him, but against Nebraska and Carnegie Tech he performed with old-time brilliancy. He kicks and passes well.

Layden is a smooth man with a run, kick or pass. Bergman is a good runner, good passer, but a poor kicker. Houser is a new man who has not yet been tried under fire.

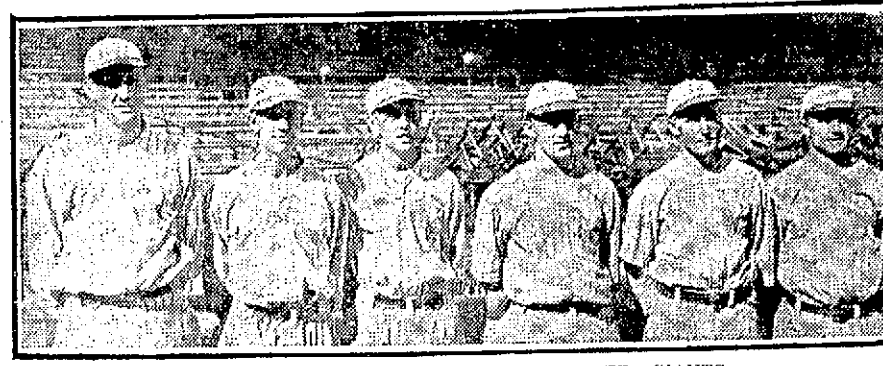

Nor are all the star prospects located in the backfield. In Captain Brown

Notre Dame's first big game comes with the strong Army eleven at the Field, Brooklyn, Oct. 12. It will not only be the most important game of the day but one of the most important of the year.

The Cadets will put a strong team on the field. Equipped with a veteran line and one of the most formidable backfields in the history of the institution, the West Pointers will be hard to down.

The addition of Tiny Hawitt, former Pittsburgh battering ram, assures the Army one of the finest ball carriers since the colorful days of Elmer Olliphant.

Notre Dame hasn't been tripped up by the Army for a number of years, though the boys were held to a scoreless tie a year ago.

THE FULL INFIELD STRENGTH OF THE GIANTS

CROWDS POURING INTO NEW YORK FOR WORLD SERIES GAMES

Agreeable Weather Conditions for First Two Games Predicted—Final "Polishing Up" Practice Sessions at Yankee Stadium and the Polo Grounds

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—World series fandom is promised agreeable weather conditions for the first two games of the Yankee-Giants series in a bulletin issued by the local weather bureau this morning. The bulletin follows:

"Fair today, Wednesday and Thursday; little change in temperature; gentle to moderate north and northeast winds."

Final "Polishing Up"

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—The Associated Press official announcement of the batting orders for tomorrow's opening game of the third successful all-New York world's series is expected late today.

The probable announcement will follow the final "polishing up" practice sessions this afternoon at the Yankee stadium and the Polo grounds.

To the batting order, generally named by the press, the Yankees have named both the well and the injured or ill members of their squads, and those in the latter classification will be called upon to go through their paces under the watchful eyes of the rival natures and the club physicians, to establish their fitness or unfitness to engage in tomorrow's play.

The majority was present at yesterday's practice when the Giants tested out the Yankee Stadium, while the Yankees were absent from their former stomping ground, the Polo grounds, but several of their number, notably Wally Pipp, the Yankee first baseman; Bob Meusel, the Yankee outfielder; both of whom have injured ankles; Pep Young, the Giant outfielder; and Jack Scott, the Giant pitcher, who have been suffering from heavy colds took things much easier, than will be possible on day hence.

Baseball officials and newspaper representatives from all sections of the country have arrived. Opinion as to the probable outcome of the series among these close followers of the national pastime seems about evenly divided.

RAY SCHALK IN FINAL ARTICLE PICKS YANKEES TO WIN

BY RAY SCHALK
World's Greatest Catcher

Who will win the world series? There are a lot of people who would like to know the correct answer to that question. Will the Giants for the third time in succession triumph over the Yankees, despite the opinion of the baseball experts to the contrary?

It is my very humble opinion that the Yankees are due to turn the tables on the Giants. I pick the Yankees to win, although I wouldn't be at all surprised if it took them the limit of seven games to turn the trick.

In picking the Yankees to win, I am not unduly of the strength of the Giants. McGraw has a great team, a smart aggregation, a club quick to take advantage of any slip on the part of the opposition. However, I am well aware of the power the Yankees possess and I cannot set aside the remarkable power of the pitching staff, even though the value of an all-star staff in a short series is a mooted question.

The Yankees are a peculiar ball club. When the team is at the top of its game, getting high-class pitching, it is well nigh invincible. On the other hand, the Yankees, when a slump can look very ordinary. Without a doubt the New York Americans failed to play up to their standard in the last two series with the Giants.

With two clubs so evenly matched as the Giants and the Yankees, I feel that the law of averages will eventually assert itself. On two occasions the Giants have captured the world series. McGraw's club has played the best ball and gotten the breaks. I look for the Yankees to be a different ball club this year, one that will surprise the Giants with its new spirit.

The Yankees of 1923 are a different ball club from that of the past two years. Individual play has been shunted aside for team work. The ill feeling that seemed to exist among the stars in other years has been entirely eliminated, and the word of Miller Huggins is accepted as the law without the slightest murmur.

The "I am bigger than the manager" idea appears to have entirely disappeared from the ranks of the Yankees. That is going to be a big factor in reversing the success the Giants have enjoyed during the past two years.

Southpaw Jack Bentley is the only newcomer in the ranks of the Giants who stands out as a barrier to the Yankee's chances to win.

Bentley has a good curve ball and an excellent change of pace. Southpaws of that style always bother the Yankees. The veteran Sherrod Smith of the Cleveland team is a good example of what a heavy southpaw can do with the Yankees. For the last two months of the year Smith has had little or no success against any club other than the Yankees.

Aside from Bentley and McQuinn, the rest of the staff of the Giants should not prove overly troublesome for the Yankees.

Superior pitching, the thought that "I am bigger than the manager" is due to deliver the decided improvement in the play of Second Baseman Wagon and the fine spirit that now prevails in the Yankee's lineup, are my reasons for believing that 1923 is an American league year.

brain and the muscles. The football player must have by far greater mental endurance than the debater.

At the University of Illinois we have the privilege of teaching some 300 young men who are states who have selected athletic coaching as their life work and have entered our four-year course in athletic coaching to train themselves. We constantly seek to impress upon them that football more than any other game, is an expression of school and college spirit and should therefore be synonymous with good sportsmanship. Any coach who neglects to further the development of good sportsmanship has failed in his calling. He must, above all, teach the rules of the game and abide by their spirit.

The future of football is more in the hands of those who teach it than those who play it. It will thrive just as long as it is a constructive force in the building of the character and physique of young Americans. This will depend upon the proper supervision of health and correct methods and ideals in coaching.

MANTY HOPES TO TURN TABLES ON MURPHY

Four boxers are anxious to meet southpaws. An entire class of boxing style is necessary to successfully come out the works of a southpaw. Entering a man, however, of an opponent who comes with the right extended he does not hesitate at accepting a return exchange.

All of which explains Charlie Manty's readiness to come back here next Friday night to tackle Billy Murphy, Lowell's sensational southpaw. Manty, who a year ago Manty then held the N. B. featherweight title. Since then he has lost it to Chick Sines. While the fight is a long one, Manty's boxing obligations relative to Sines, etc., which protected his crown. Manty came here to the rematch, but he could not find the time to do so. Manty's title was not at stake.

These stipulations were drawn up by the owner, Manty's promoter, who is a southpaw style fighter himself. That the winner had the right does was evident before the fight had progressed very far. Murphy's peculiar style and his speed have Manty bewildered. In the early rounds, this enabling the

JONIE WALKER BOUT STOPPED

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 9. The bout between Jimmy Jones, recognized in New York state as a welterweight champion of the world, and Mike Walker, generally considered that the best in the state, was stopped at the end of the ninth round by Chief Referee Inspector Adams.

The spectators, officially numbered at 22,000, evidenced dissatisfaction with the way in which the bout was progressing, before many rounds had passed, and cries of "stalling" were soon heard and by the time the seventh and eighth rounds were reached many were leaving.

Lowell boy to put up a most formidable lead.

Though on the first and second rounds he succeeded in making his opponent's attack and as a result he pulled and came very close to winning the fight by the fourth round. Jones' success in not only finding a defense for Murphy's punches, but also in being able to protect his guard and not being taken down by the latter, was a discouragement to seek and accept another match. He is out to start the coming battle as he finished the other night. He believes the plan will enable him to wipe out the reverse of a year ago.

BOYLE BEATS QUILL HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL WORLD SERIES AT THE CRESCENT RINK

Lowell Boy Lands Clean Cut Decision Over Brockton Rival in Nashua Bout

(Special to the Sun)

NASHUA, N. H., Oct. 9.—Before a capacity house in the Nashua Division last night, Phiney Boyle of Lowell won a clean-cut decision over Frank Kelly of Brockton in a boxing battle that was checked full of the most known action. The large delegation from Lowell made Boyle quite at home as they sat in ruminative seats and cheered their favorite on to victory every time the clever Spindler City boy was in a hole.

But Boyle didn't get in many holes last night. The veteran, midwestern fighter about the ring with all his old-time skill and ability and swapped the hard and punishing wallows with the Brockton fighter in the very first round. Boyle commanded an early lead, completely bewildering his opponent with lightning fast and daring away from him, threatening attacks on the part of Quill.

The first two rounds were all Boyle's, but Quill gathered the third round of his running, crowding and brawling tactics. Just as the bell rang in this round, Boyle landed a terrific right to Quill's jaw, sending the latter to his corner in a proper condition.

From then on until the seventh, Boyle had things pretty much his own way with Quill making desperate attempts to wrench the fight away from him. Boyle fought on the defensive in this round, landing occasional body blows when the opportunity was offered. In the eighth, both boys began to show the result of the strain and were in a tired condition. Bores were even in this, and in the two remaining stanzas, Boyle's early advantage seemed to be the award which was popularly believed by the majority of the fans and especially the Lowell contingent.

Lefty Williams of Lowell lost the decision to Lou Desrosiers of Nashua in the semi-final of eight rounds. With the exception of the first two rounds Williams was on the defensive.

TRINITY AND LOWELL TEXTILE SATURDAY

Trinity college of Hartford, Conn., will be the opponent of Lowell Textile in the series of games in New York at 2 o'clock. A great thrill comes when a home run is made, as the bell rings as hitter touches such base, double plays, etc., are enacted with the precision of actual execution.

There is added interest locally this year because of the fact that a Lowell man, "Bob Earl," will take an active part in the series as one of the four umpires. Details of his work will be given during the progress of the game. The board will begin simultaneously with the opening of the games in New York at 2 o'clock. It will operate every day of the series.

100 WOMEN GOLF PLAYERS COMPETE

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 9.—More than 100 women golf players representing many sections of the country will meet at the Haddington village country club today in the 12th invitation tournament for the Berthelton cup. The entry list includes Miss Glenna Collett of Providence, who was defeated as national champion last week; Mrs. Dorothy Campbell of Third, Philadelphia, another former titleholder; and most of the others who qualified for the national title competition at Rye, N. Y., last week. The most notable absentee is Miss Edith Cummings, of Chicago, the new champion.

Today's play will be at 18 holes, the 16 hole medal winners to qualify for the cup competition. Match play will start tomorrow.

OVERLOADING ELEVEN IS VERY COMMON FAULT

BY ROBERT C. ZITPKE
Football Coach, University of Illinois
Author of "Football Technique and Tactics"

Many football teams, especially high school eleven, have too large a number of players. The inevitable result is that they are not sufficiently drilled in any of them.

I have selected ten plays. I believe this selection, together with punts, place or drop kicks, runs and smashes from punt formations will be practically a sufficient number for a team to use for a season.

It is axiomatic that a team must be well drilled not only on the execution of plays but in the fundamentals, such as tackling, blocking, etc. But you must also develop a mental alert that will enable the player who is weaker physically than some others, to play "over his head." The difference between champions and "almos" champions is the ability to play for something outside of self. Moral and physical courage are closely associated, if your nerves fail you, your body fails you. It is a mistake to discriminate between the Shawshen Village team.

EXPERT SAYS YANKS MUST WIN FIRST GAME TO TAKE SERIES

BY TOM SWOPE

Sports Editor of the Cincinnati Post

From the time the pennant-winning teams of the two major leagues started playing regularly for the world championship, back in 1903, the first game always has been considered the big one.

The Giants sort of exploded this a little in 1921, when they won the series after losing the first two games.

This year, though, the first game seems bigger than ever. If the Giants win it I believe they will romp through to another triumph over the Yankees without a great deal of trouble, capping the series in about five games.

I look at it this way because I believe the Yankees will lose a lot of their pep if that first game goes to their National League rivals.

The Yankees are going into this series determined to do or die. They've had a great season. They have played together as a machine instead of as a lot of individuals who, were trying to set individual records.

In 1921 and 1922, Miller Huggins had teams of great individual strength but lacking in team play because his clubs were packed with players who were out for themselves. Several of these fellows still are on deck, but cured of their swelled heads. They found out last October that the Giants, playing together, were their masters, so this year they went in for team work and have put over a great winning record.

However, if they lose the first game of this series, they are going to ask themselves if they really class with the Giants. A defeat at the start of this series is going to make them doubt their own ability. They won't be able to shake off the memories of what happened to them in 1921 and 1922. Put the Yankees in that frame of mind and they are going to have lots of trouble winning more than one game.

That's why the first game of the series looks like the big one from the Yankee point of view, to me.

With the Giants it's different. They are not likely to be thrown off their stride by losing the first game. A defeat at the start of the series will not be any mental hazard to them. They are used to coming back after being in the hole. The Yankees are not.

In 1921 the Giants did not curl up after losing the first two games. They just pitched in and won five of the next six.

What they did that year will keep their fighting spirit alive this fall, even should things go against them at the start.

Regardless of the outcome of the first game I believe the Giants will win the series for the third straight time. They have had a tough season and are rolling down the home stretch in the finest possible condition. McGraw had no crimples on his team when it came into Cincinnati recently and finally disposed of the Reds, who gave them plenty of fight.

His team not only is physically fit but mentally sound. The Giants are not overconfident about the Yankees. They believe the Yankees have improved a great deal. In my opinion they credit the Yankees with making a bigger improvement than the American League champions have made.

I think the easy path the Yankees have trod to the pennant is due, in a great measure, to a falling off in the strength of their opposition.

However, it is good, for the Giants to think they are in for a hard fight. It will send them into battle expecting real opposition. They will not get it, too, if the Yankees manage to win the first game.

But if the Yankees do not win that first one a clean sweep for the Giants would not surprise me.

Last year the Giants pretty thoroughly exploded the theory that a ball club must have an All pitching staff to win a pennant or a world series. They again showed it up this year.

John McGraw has no world beaters pitching for him. The Reds and Pirates have superior pitchers and so has Brooklyn. Yet the Giants won the pennant.

McGraw handled his pitchers this year so as to get the most out of them and that was good enough to lick the rest of the National League. His opposition was stronger this year than last, yet his club, with five games still to play and one in the discard, had won as many games as it captured in the entire season of 1922.

If one pitcher couldn't win a game McGraw called on two, three or four for him. He has a whole flock of pitchers who are good for two to five innings each and he used them that way. He'll not let the Yankees give any one pitcher much of a beating this fall but I hardly expect him to find it necessary to jerk his hurlers as often as he did in the heat of the National League campaign.

For one thing, the series will be played under weather conditions which will not sap the strength of his pitchers. For another, his leading hurlers are in their best form of the season and in the Yankees are not going against a ball club that is as dangerous as some of the National League teams which the Giants bested this year.

For a while this season it appeared the Giants were just going to stumble into their championship. They faltered but kept in front because the Reds and Pirates were slumping along with them.

But in the final drive the Giants brewed up and played at top speed. I look for them to be at their best against the Yankees and win their third straight world championship.

WEST POINT-NOTRE DAME

Laborers Transform Ebbs Field From Diamond to Gridiron for Big Game

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Laborers began today to transform Ebbs field, home of the Brooklyn Dodgers, from a diamond to a gridiron in preparation for the annual clash next Saturday between West Point and Notre Dame.

Charles H. Ebbs, owner of the park, has undertaken a new seating arrangement which promises to increase the capacity and at the same time give the customer a better view of the game. The grid will run from home plate to center field, instead of parallel to first and third base as in previous seasons.

The Hoosier squad will reach New York next Friday for an afternoon workout at the Brooklyn park. They will be quartered at the Westchester-Biltmore club, at River where the club point field has been put at the disposal of Coach Roche for practice.

Up at West Point, the Army already has begun the grand patch of grading work in preparation for the encounter, with a 30-minute mixer heading each day's work. Reports that the Hoosier eleven is underweight and recent are not taken seriously there, and drillmasters of the squad are outspoken in criticizing their men for slow and unsportsmanlike tackling.

It has become apparent that some one must be developed in a hurry to replace Don Stork, three-stripe veteran at right end, whose leg injury improves so slowly that it is considered certain he will be unable to appear against Notre Dame.

Intersectional interest in Saturday's schedule is shared by Colgate and Ohio state, who play in Columbus. Reports say Dick Harlow has the best Colgate team in years.

Yale, which confronts the University of Georgia four days hence and Cornell on Monday, has been in the limelight for some time. The meeting, both concede they have work to do. Yale is appearing on the practice grid with two new faces in the squad, as a result of the faculty's removal of the disqualification placed on freshmen last spring.

Wesleyan's 13 to 6 victory over Bowdoin, has caused quite a flutter on the campus of Columbia in anticipation of the university's session with the Connecticut crew next Saturday. Captain Koppisch is out with the squad again and may be in condition for the Wesleyan contest.

NAVY CLUB PLANS BIG CELEBRATION

Plans for the Lowell Navy club's celebration of Navy Day, October 27, will be discussed at a meeting of the organization tonight in the high school annex on Palace street. The meeting is called for 8 o'clock and all ex-navy men are urged to attend.

A tentative plan for the observance of Navy Day, drawn up at the club smoker recently, is to hold a whaleboat race on the river in the afternoon and to have moving pictures depicting navy life and a program of speakers at the Memorial Auditorium in the evening. If this plan is accepted at tonight's meeting, Congressman John Jacob Rogers will be invited to give the main address at this affair.

M'CREEARY WINS BOUT

Defeats Clem Johnson—Lew Paluso and Benny Valgar Also Win Bouts

BOSTON, Oct. 9.—Battling McCreary, Boston's colored lightweight champion of the world, annexed another title last night at the Arena when he administered a sound beating to Clem Johnson, the New York colored giant, in 10 rounds. By reason of his victory, Alex MacLean's durable negro became the heavyweight champion of Mexico, a title Johnson acquired recently by knocking out the veteran Sam Langford.

The bout was the feature contest of an all-star program offered by the Arena A. C. and it featured with stiff and determined battling and hard hitting. Johnson, towering well above six feet and weighing 210 pounds, appeared massive compared with the shorter and lighter McCreary, who weighed in yesterday afternoon at 186 pounds. But what the latter lacked in height and weight was more than offset by his ability to assimilate punishing blows by his really clever defensive boxing and damaging infighting.

There were two other 10 rounders in addition to the windup, also two four rounders. Kid Paluso, brother of Lew Paluso, the Salt Lake City featherweight, met Johnny Troy of the North End in the opener and had so much the better of the going that the referee stopped the affair in the second. Paluso received the award.

In the next bout Steve Adams of Chicago defeated George Segal of Revere, a substitute, in four rounds of fast, hard hitting.

Benny Valgar, the French flash from New York, made his appearance in the first tier. His opponent was Joe Currie of New Haven. Valgar was slow to get started and in the earlier rounds got mixed up with several fine left hooks to the head that bothered him. Benny finally got into his stride, however, and Currie was swerving wild and won at least two-thirds of the rounds and the decision.

Lew Paluso of Salt Lake City and New York was next out, with Mickey Travers of New Haven as his opponent. Travers did a lot of hooking and swinging and had the better of the first three rounds. About the time Paluso began to show 'em through tough, whereupon Travers began to swing wild and bring more punishment to himself. Lew had won slumps out of the 10 and was given the verdict.

AS SOON AS SIMS FINDS PARK LADS CAN BEGIN

WOOLWORTH TOWER, Oct. 9.—Leaving Columbus Circle yesterday, I decided to visit the Yankee stadium, where the first game of the annual New York world series will be played.

That was more than 24 hours ago and the Woolworth building is the closest I have been able to get to the stadium since.

So I came up in the tower here hoping to look out and spot the place so I could walk to it instead of trying to ride subways.

But I was too late. It is dark now. The Million Lights of Gotham twinkle as far as you can see, even making the stars overhead appear to be their reflections. I can open my eyes and see what Flippo and Dempsey recently saw out there some place with their eyes closed.

The protecting mantle of darkness has fallen. All you can hear from this great height is nine railroad wheels, forty street cars trying to climb the tower, six hundred pedestrians wondering if as many automobiles will please get off their necks and nine thousand golfers missing six-inch putts, all of which resembles what I was hearing this same night five years ago, a St. Mihiel barrage.

Tomorrow is October 10, if the calendar doesn't lie. I have been in New York three days now and wouldn't be surprised to find even the calendars here do lie. I know the subway guards do. But if this tomorrow really is October 10—tonight is the night before the first game of the annual New York world series.

So out among those twinkling lights seen from the tower here the ticket speculators are speculating on how much admission they should charge and some $2,000 baseball fans are speculating whether they see the games or see the baby in new shoes.

George Herman Ruth is out there some place. Wonder what George is thinking tonight? Let he closes his eyes and sees the last year's series with everybody laughing at him. Then he grabs an imaginary bat and bounces an imaginary ball off the imaginary nose of the imaginary man in that real moon.

Wonder what McGraw is doing? Probably standing before a mirror signaling for the three men on base to come in when Meusel hits.

Let the hot dog boys are practicing new ways of yelling so you can't tell what they say; the official announcer is sticking gum on his false teeth or stuffing his microphone with mush so you won't know who substitutes for who; all the fat men are swarming for seats in the middle of the row so they can sneeze past you, and the ushers are planning to make everybody walk around the field twice.

What are the players doing? The rookies are hoping enough of the regulars get the terrace; the regulars are thinking back to the old lush lounge days, and both are being rubbed down, massaged and smoothed out like new cement sidewalks.

Perhaps the umpires are taking out more life insurance.

Anyway, the annual New York world series starts tomorrow and nobody is as worried as I am about where they have moved the Yankee stadium.

SOX SCANDAL RECALLED TO SELECT NOMINEES FOR SPECIAL ELECTION

Rothstein Says Fuller Won $22,500 From Him on Series Game

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—E. M. Fuller of the bankrupt brokerage firm of E. M. Fuller & Co. won $22,500 from him on the third game of the 1919 world series, Arnold Rothstein, alleged gambler, testified yesterday at the Fuller-McGee bucketshop investigation before Referee Coffin.

Rothstein, who today was under notice to return next Monday to sign his testimony and answer further questions, made this statement after William Chadbourne, attorney representing Fuller's creditors, had sought to link the Chicago White Sox scandal with the 1919 series with the Fuller case.

After Rothstein had refused to answer questions as to whether the White Sox series had been "fixed," Chadbourne explained that he understood Rothstein had won $22,500 from Fuller on that series, and wanted to find out how much he knew about the bribery.

Referee Coffin warned Rothstein several times because of his attitude and answers in reply to Chadbourne's questions about the witness' acquaintance with Abe Attell, J. J. "Sport" Sullivan and others in connection with charges of bribing Chicago players to throw the world series to Cincinnati.

Rothstein admitted that he knew Attell and Sullivan, but denied that he ever talked with either concerning the series.

LOWELL BAPTIST UNION MEETING

The annual meeting of the Lowell Baptist union was held last night at the North Tewksbury Baptist church with a large attendance. Preceding the meeting a supper was served by the ladies of the North Tewksbury church.

The conference was called to order by Dr. Edward Babcock, president, of the First Baptist church. Prayer was offered by Rev. W. J. Setzer, pastor of the Central Baptist church and the secretary's report was read by Rev. Henry A. Cornell, clerk of the union. Committee reports were then read and accepted.

The principal speaker, Rev. W. Quay Roselle, pastor of the First Baptist church of Malden, was introduced by Dr. Babcock and gave an interesting talk on the subject: "Bright Gleams in the Ecclesiastical Sky." A vote of thanks was made to the speaker and to the hostesses, and the meeting was adjourned.

SAYS WOMAN INVOLVED IN WEBB CASE

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Oct. 8.—A number of witnesses appeared today before the October grand jury to testify regarding circumstances in connection with the death of Mrs. Gertrude Gorman Webb, at the Westchester-Biltmore Country club, at Rye, two weeks ago.

Among the witnesses who gathered were the doctor, who attended Mrs. Webb during her illness, the physicians who performed the autopsy upon her body, her two nurses and a number of friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. William T. Hunter, of Devon, Pa., uncle and aunt of Mrs. Webb, appeared at the courthouse and went to the grand jury room.

"There is a woman in this case," Mr. Hunter told reporters. "She is blonde and her name is Louise."

He said Mrs. Webb was offended, shortly after her wedding because Mr. Webb spoke to "Louise."

Mrs. Hunter brought numerous telegrams and letters which she said Webb had sent her during his wife's illness.

Dever explained that the purpose of his recently inaugurated campaign against Chicago's illicit beer was twofold: first to protect the public from prison and second to bring about better law enforcement and to rid the body politic of corruption.

"Taking for granted the Volstead law is a poor law," he said, "we can enforce it until the injustice of the law is impressed on the minds of the people, until they go to the ballot box to remedy the condition. ## Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 1

Have you ever gone hunting through the woods for hickory nuts? Well, that's what Jack Daw was doing when he discovered a great castle that he had never seen before. Jack had just about filled his sack with nuts when, just ahead of him, the beautiful castle appeared.

Gee, thought the little adventurer, I certainly would like to see what the inside of that place looks like. And, at that moment, as he stood staring at the great stone building, a little balloon floated out of one of the windows. It soared slowly down toward Jack.

"Oh," shouted the boy, "someone has lost this balloon." And, when the big, round bag of air came close enough, Jack grabbed hold of it. He then discovered that there was a stick on the balloon and, as he held this tightly, the balloon itself began to swell up. (Continued.)

"LET'S TALK ABOUT SOMETHING TO EAT," SAID PIGGY WIG PIG.

Piggy Wig Pig and Saucy Snout Pig and Twisty Tail Pig were all lying side by side in a cool, muddy puddle in Squelchy-Moo Land.

They looked like three sausages that had been stuffed too tight and were ready to burst if you touched them.

Piggy Wig Pig was black, Saucy Snout Pig was white and Twisty Tail Pig was black and white, but just now they were brown all over, the three of them, for they had rolled in the mud and dried off and they were sights to behold.

"Let's talk about something to eat," said Piggy Wig Pig.

"Yes, let's," agreed the others. "But to Nancy and Nick and Mister Dodger, the fairy man, on the other side of the fence, it just sounded as though one pig was grunting, another squealing and another snorting, such funny noises they made when they talked."

"I like butter-milk with corn cobs floating in it," said Piggy Wig Pig, smacking his lips.

"And I like the days they have apple pie!" said Saucy Snout. "Then they dump all the apple peelings and apple cores into the trough. Um!"

"Oh, I like anything!" declared Twisty Tail. "I'm not particular. Clover's good, though. I like that!"

Now, I didn't tell you that there was another little pig in the field, but there was! A nice, clean little red fellow, who wasn't very fat, or very big, or very curly—his tail wasn't—and he wasn't dirty at all! But he was very hungry.

Farmer Brown had bought him from a neighbor, and he felt very lonely and forlorn, for the other pigs wouldn't look at him at all!

Just then there was a loud bumping. It was Farmer Brown emptying his slop pails into the trough at the pigsty.

Instantly there was a scrambling, and off started the four pigs for their lunch.

"Get out!" squealed Piggy Wig Pig at the stranger.

"Wait till we're through," grunted Saucy Snout over his fat shoulder.

"We'll give you what's left," called Twisty Tail.

That's the way it always was. No wonder poor Reddy Pig was so thin and hungry. For there never was anything left!

But suddenly something happened. Nancy grabbed one greasy pig by his hind foot and Nick grabbed the third. "Go on, Reddy, and eat your fill!" cried the fairy man.

Which he did without any coaxing. There was never any more trouble after that, for the pigs all promised to be good.

one is filled with thrills. The players are up "on their toes" every minute and there is no doubt at all but that this week's show is the best so far this season presented by the Luttering company. From leading lady to the sub who appears as a policeman in one of the scenes, every member of the company is at his or her best and their efforts were rewarded by the large audience.

The cast of the play follows: Ermintrude Marley, Kathleen Keating; Lexington Dairymilk, John Rowe; Mrs. Rand, Georgia Seaton; Hazel Corinne Hilary, William Thompson; Hilary Rand, William Thompson; Fred Woodbury, Edna Earl; Victor Brown, Victor Brown; Malcolm MacLeod, John Taylor; Lloyd Sabine, Lloyd Sabine; Frank Parrara, Frank Parrara.

The story is of a girl who must, before reaching the age of 21, marry to inherit a fortune of $2,000,000. She views her approaching marriage with an old playmate with a sense of failure. In quest of excitement she meets with an accident which leaves her at the point of death. Fearing that she will die and her family lose the fortune, she marries the first man that her father can find, a man caught in the act of burglarizing her home. She recovers from her illness and refuses to divorce this man. From this point on the play is filled to the brim with excitement and mystery and the finish of the play finds the audience deeply interested and tense with the excitement furnished by the players.

Hazel Corinne, the willowy leading lady of the company, is right at home in the leading part of this play. As the

LIEUT. MAHER SAYS PAWN BROKERS HONEST

Local pawnbrokers are on the level as a general rule, according to Lieut. Martin Maher of the criminal investigation bureau of the police department, and the man who has perhaps conducted more investigations of the "Three Ball" establishments than any other officer connected with the department of police in this city.

The "profession" of the pawnbrokers, thinks the Lowell sleuth, is an extremely difficult one to follow, inasmuch as they are forced to deal with down-and-outers, whose characters they know little or nothing about, and who are always ready and willing to put something "over" on the unsuspecting dealer. For instance, a man from a New Hampshire city appeared in district court yesterday charged with the larceny of a watch and chain, valued at $45. It developed that he had disposed of the jewelry in a local pawnbroker for $10, claiming that he was "up against it" and was in dire need of money. Taking the customer at his word, the exchange was made and the broker would be minus his $10 today out for the fact that the defendant promised to make restitution. Nine out of every ten convicted persons agree to reimburse the broker in instances like this.

In the majority of cases, says Lieut. Maher, pawnbrokers are not conscious of the fact that their customers are thieves and that they are dealing with stolen property. Professional thieves are cautious enough not to arouse suspicion by selling their goods outright to the dealer. The experienced broker has an uncanny knowledge of the value of things and when a person offers a $50 article for $5 or $10 and is glad to get even that amount for it, the eternal "why" presents itself to the man behind the counter.

There is a state law which demands that articles legitimately pawned cannot be sold by the dealer for four months after the transaction. If the customer is sincere, he usually reclaims his property at the expiration of that period or else renews the contract for another four months. The real criminal invariably uses this method, as it tends to ward off detection. On the other hand, when a sale is made outright or direct, the broker may legally dispose of the article in eight days. It is the direct sale that eventually results in an investigation by Lieut. Maher or some other member of Supt. Atkinson's "Sherlocks," for it is then that the article reveals itself as stolen property.

EVENING CLASSES OPEN AT TEXTILE SCHOOL

Evening classes at the Textile school opened last night with an attendance in excess of 800 pupils. The courses offered in all branches of textile training are run by the city of Lowell for the inhabitants and there is no charge for tuition. Out of town students must pay a small amount, however. The classes in evening school differ from those in the daytime merely in that they do not cover so much ground due to lack of time, and their purpose is to enable men now working in the various branches of the mills in this city, to better themselves by a course of training in the work they do. The fact that most of the students are of foreign parentage shows the keen appreciation of the alien for the advantages afforded.

HIGH SCHOOL CAMPAIGN

The high school campaign for funds to complete the payments due on repairs to Alumni field is still being $1500 short of the amount needed. The students are continuing the work, but Headmaster Harris announced that Thursday would definitely be the final day.

Lowell Man Loud in His Praises

Deco Relieves Him of Suffering After Other Medicines Fail.

If you haven't health you are going through this world under a handicap that seriously affects your chances in this race to the top in the business world. Health is your most important asset—guard it. Let Deco help you like it has thousands of others.

Mr. Albert Dickert, 187 Moody street, Lowell, Mass., well known in and around Lowell, for years endured all the suffering that comes from bad stomach, liver and kidneys. He tried many different medicines hoping that he would find relief. But none of them helped him.

"My stomach and liver and kidneys were in such a bad condition that I was sickly most of the time. My entire system was run down, completely wrecked by my troubles.

"All the medicine I took failed to help me, but their failure only makes Deco's success the more remarkable. "After taking two bottles of this wonderful remedy I feel fine. All my old troubles disappeared. I was a new man, with a stomach that worked fine, a healthy liver and kidneys that did not give me the least bit of bother.

"It is the only medicine I ever saw or heard of that really helps a person bothered with the troubles that kept me in a state of suffering so long."

Statements like this from persons right here in our home town should do much to convince people of the true merits of Deco. This remedy does not contain mercury, poison or harmful minerals nor anything that affects the heart but is composed of the juices of many different herbs, roots and leaves which act on the vital organs.

Deco is being specially introduced by Green's Drug Store and sold by druggists everywhere.

OPENING OF MIDDLESEX WOMEN'S CLUB

Speaking before the members of the Middlesex Women's club at their first program meeting of the season in Colonial hall yesterday afternoon, J. Burford Parry paid a glowing tribute to David Lloyd George, renowned English statesman who recently arrived in this country, saying: "When the history of the great war is written, whether you agree with me or not, the man known as Lloyd George will be the great statesman of the world."

Mr. Parry, an American of Welsh birth, proved a highly interesting speaker and delighted the large and appreciative audience with his stories of his little summer home in Wales, where annually, he said, he spends three months among childhood reminiscences, were told in realistic fashion, and especially appealing was the explanation of his young daughter's first lesson in holding the place of his mother. "Some of the things I feel," he said, "to be and everything." Several other anecdotes, relating to home life in Wales, were informally revealed by Mr. Parry in his own inimitable manner, and each found instant favor with his listeners.

Describing an ordinary Sunday in a typical Welsh village, Mr. Parry gave the following interesting program: "At 10.30 a. m. the villagers go to chapel and for one long hour, they listen to a sermon on religious doctrine. And they know what the pastor and vicar explain their beliefs to others. After services, they return to the quietude of their homes where dinner of Welsh quentin and rice pudding is enjoyed. In the afternoon they go to Sunday school, then home again for tea at 4 o'clock. At 5.30 in the evening, the church choir more claims their attention and they listen to an evangelistic sermon.

"The boys and girls are trained from earliest childhood in the proper methods of meeting an audience and it was due to this environment, I think, that Lloyd George has such magnetic power with the people. He was trained like every Welshman, to talk not at an audience, but with an audience."

Mr. Parry then digressed on the competitive tests that are conducted in the national stadium, in writing and in the arts. He said he was in attendance at one of these tests when Lloyd George was the guest of honor. On that occasion, the statesman showed his love and respect for an American, when he said: "I want you to remember what is happening across the sea. They are burying a great president today." At his suggestion, then, Lloyd George sang the hymn, "The Old Hundred," one of the most touching pieces of music ever written. "I'll tell you, I never knew how much of an American he was."

The speaker discussed in brief, the industry of the Welsh, their scholarship and their attainments, summarizing them in this manner: "Of their industry, little can be said; of their scholarship, much; of their love of industry, much, and of their religion, more. I love the people because they know how to sing and they know how to pray."

In the conclusion of his address, the speaker was accorded a vote of thanks by the members. Mrs. Charles H. Hobson, president of the club, had charge of the meeting and introduced the guests.

CASES IN THE SUPERIOR COURT

The cross actions of Marie J. Ostiguy vs. C. P. Omer Moreau, and Moreau vs. Ostiguy, suits growing out of alleged trespass of property, was taken from the jury in the superior civil court before Judge Qua this morning, as settlement had been agreed upon by counsel. Attorneys A. J. Blazon and J. J. Hennessy were counsel for Mrs. Ostiguy and Attorney Henry Charbonneau for Moreau.

The case was tried yesterday, each party claiming that the other's property overstepped on their land. The property in question is situated on Moody street, between the rear of the building.

A jury was empaneled in the cross actions of George Lock of Lynn vs. George McDonald of Billerica, and McDonald vs. Lock. The case was completed by Judge Qua completed his charge to the jury just before 1 o'clock and the jury then retired.

The actions grew out of a collision between autos driven by the principals on High street in North Billerica. The accident happened July 16, 1922, the cars colliding as they attempted to pass each other on a curve in the road. Each claimed the accident was caused by the other's negligence.

Attorney James E. McDonald, was counsel for Mr. McDonald, and Atty. Underwood, of Niles, Stevens, Underwood & Mayer was counsel for Lock. The ad damnum in the Lock suit was $500, and in the McDonald suit the ad damnum was placed at $2000.

When court convened for the afternoon session at 2 o'clock, a jury was empaneled in the case of Sidney Bernstein vs. Eddie Hopper, an action of contract, ad damnum $2000. The plaintiff seeks to recover damages for the loss of a horse which he claims fell through a floor in a stable which he rented from the defendant, and subsequently the horse died. The plaintiff claims that the floor of the stable was unsafe and defective.

Attorney E. J. Tierney is counsel for the plaintiff and Attorney Bennett Silverblatt for the defendant.

MODERN EQUIPMENT FOR SNOW REMOVAL

The street department is going to tackle the snow problem this winter with at least one piece of modern equipment that should make the process of cleaning up the down-town streets considerably easier than it has been in the past, according to City Engineer Stephen Kearney. A requisition for a snow loader is now being prepared and will be given to the purchasing agent within a few days for the calling of bids.

While it is not known as yet just what machine will be purchased, the general type is known and from tests conducted in other cities the machine should release numerous shovellers for service where the loader cannot operate. The type of loader specified is of the belt loading type and loads a truck in a very few minutes. It can only be used economically, however, to clear up the piles of snow left by the street railway plows. This is the biggest problem to be met by the street department so it is confidently believed that the worst of their troubles will be ended with the purchase and operation of a snow loader.

A demonstration of tractors and tractor-drawn apparatus for the removal of snow is being held in Cambridge today and Dennis J. Murphy, chairman of the board of public service, and Asst. Supt. Garrity of the street department are attending the demonstration. If these men are interested in the machines, they may be made but it is doubtful if the city treasury can afford more than one such machine this year.

With the snow loader at work along the car tracks, the men and sleighs that formerly did this work will be able to work on the other streets immediately and as the removal problem is easiest while the snow is still soft and unpacked, Mr. Kearney believes that the city this year will maintain more open roads than ever before.

JUDGE PICKMAN

Two inquests were held before Judge Pickman in the court of second sessions this morning. The first concerned the death of 8-year-old J. Melvin Wentworth, who died as the result of being struck by a machine driven by "Armidas J. Gervais near the Laura Lee school on Sept. 15.

The second inquest was relative to the death of Peter Guadagnolo, an employe of the B. & M. carshops in Billerica, who met his death in consequence of injuries received while at work on Sept. 18.

Mulligan, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and Mr. Charles Horan of Westover was best man. The bride wore a gown of white duchess satin with train, trimmed with Chantilly lace, pearls and rhinestones. She wore a silk net veil caught up with pearls and carried a shower bouquet of roses, lilacs of the valley and sweet peas. The bridesmaid was attired in rose colored taffeta and wore a picture hat of silver lace and rose tulle. She carried Opheas roses. The ushers were Mr. Thomas E. Garvey, Jr., and Mr. Edward Leo Garrity. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Josephine L. Mulligan, 100 Pleasant st. The guests at the ceremony were Miss Marion Ryan and the "bellies, Miss Ruth Boulger and Mrs. Alice Dacey Delmore.

Mrs. Ahern is the daughter of Mrs. Josephine L. Mulligan, and the late Thomas J. Mulligan, former telegraphic editor of the Lowell Sun. Mr. Ahern is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Ahern of Boston. After an extended honeymoon trip to Chicago and other places of interest, Mr. and Mrs. Ahern will be at home to friends at 42 West Sixth street, about Nov. 1.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK AMERICAN LEGION, POST WELL UNDERWAY HERE

With the co-operation of all good citizens evident at every turn, fire prevention week, as called for throughout the land by presidential proclamation, got underway in Lowell yesterday.

Firemen detailed by Chief Saunders visited several of the public and parochial schools addressing the pupils on the subject of fire prevention. The firemen will continue their visits today and tomorrow until all of the schools have been visited.

School fire drills have been ordered in the majority of the schools as part of the observance program. "Open house" is the rule at every fire station in the city where the firemen are especially alert to show those interested about the stations and explain methods of fire fighting and fire prevention. Chief Saunders has full power as director of Fire Prevention Week in Lowell and the men of the department are enthusiastically co-operating with their chief in every way possible.

Various fire menaces and hazards are being as vigilantly watched as ever by the department members and public buildings throughout the city are being visited with the idea of eliminating fire hazards where possible.

Everywhere the spirit of the week is uppermost and Chief Saunders has found the folk of Lowell most responsive to his suggestions for eliminating fire hazards. The rules promulgated by the chief have been read religiously in many homes being especially impressed upon children and careless members of the households.

Because the Columbus day holiday on Friday will to some extent have the effect of shortening the observance, every energy is being bent to put the fire prevention message across during the early days of the week.

In connection with Fire Prevention Week the chamber of commerce of the United States presents the following practical suggestions concerning what to do in case of a fire:

"Whenever you go into a large building, auditorium, or take a room in a hotel you should become acquainted with the location of the fire exits as soon as possible. Since many lives are lost due to ignorance of proper methods of getting out of a building quickly, it is advisable that everyone be prepared with the information in advance.

"If you happen to be in such a place when a fire occurs, keep from getting excited and use your best efforts to prevent excitement among those near you. If in a crowd, do not try to run or push your way through. It has always been found that a building can be emptied much more quickly if the occupants leave it in an orderly manner. Frequently, fires have brought disaster from the flames, but not from panic.

"If your clothes catch on fire, never attempt to run. Your movement simply fans the flames. The quickest and best method of extinguishing burning clothing is to roll the wearer in a rug or blanket, or any other heavy material. Care should be used to extinguish the flames around the face and head as soon as possible to prevent the wearer from inhaling the flames.

"If you are unfortunate enough to be caught in a burning building, remember that smoke and flames travel more quickly when there is a draft. It pays to think a moment of the results before throwing open windows and doors. A door opened at the wrong moment may cause smoke to rush into the room, overcooking the occupants or making their escape impossible. When leaving a burning room, close the door. This will retard the spread of flames.

"It is important to remember that it is natural for smoke to rise. There is always, therefore, less smoke near the floor; and in a burning room you will be safest if you keep your head as low as possible. The best method of leaving a room full of smoke is by crawling.

"In case of emergency a rope often can be quickly made out of bed sheets. It is important to remember, however, to tear the sheets in strips before tying them. In this manner one or two sheets will produce a rope of considerable length."

A convention of the Assyrian Mar Vahado societies of New England was held last Saturday, Sunday and Monday in Assyrian hall, Worcester, and was attended by approximately 500 representatives from the New England states.

Francis Hoyer, president of the local society, represented Lowell at the convention and he stated today that it was the most successful affair ever held by the society. The principal business taken up was the planning of a drive to erect churches in the cities where the Assyrian population is large enough to support a church. It was decided that all efforts on the erection of a church in Worcester first and then to turn to Lowell and erect a church here. Several other matters of importance were taken up at the meeting concerning church and society business. The Mar Vahado society was founded in the seventh century in Persia and is a religious society, affiliated with the Assyrian Orthodox church and under the religious guidance of Elias S. Patriarch of Antioch. The Lowell society is a branch of the original order and has a large membership.

ALL INDUSTRIES WOULD BENEFIT UNDER FEDERAL CHILD LABOR LAW ROTARY IS TOLD

Owen R. Lovejoy Makes Stirring Plea for Uniform Legislation by Constitutional Amendment—Says Alabama Has Cast the Die and the South is Gradually Waking Up to the Preference of Healthy Young Minds and Bodies Than to Under-Developed Children at Work

One of the most urgent reasons why Massachusetts should solidly back national child labor legislation is because of the benefits to Massachusetts industries which would indirectly accrue thereby.

So the Rotary club was told today at its weekly luncheon at the Boys' City club. The speaker was Owen R. Lovejoy, L.L.D., of New York city, nationally known as the "children's statesman."

Mr. Lovejoy, who is himself a Rotarian, belonging to the club in St. Petersburg, Fla., is an eloquent, interesting, forceful speaker, who commands the strictest attention. Mr. Lovejoy's mission was to gain adherents to the movement for the proposed amendment to the constitution, making a uniform

WATER DEPARTMENT MEN LAID OFF BY ORDER OF CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION

Five laborers were laid off by the water department last Saturday under orders received by Supr. Robert Gardner from the civil service commission and the department is now handicapped by a labor shortage that threatens to disrupt its schedule of work and leave several jobs unfinished with the coming of the cold weather.

The five laborers laid off were hired six months ago as temporary employees, as the department, it was said, only needed their work during the open months. The six months expired last week and a letter was received ordering their dismissal unless the department wished to put them on as regular and permanent employees.

Mr. Gardner stated today that it would be impossible to do the latter as it would necessitate their being kept in the pay roll during the winter.

Buffalo's Pied-Piper, H. T. Pitts, who is carrying on a rat exterminating campaign in this city reported today that he has succeeded in doing away with over 15,000 rats during the past week. He also said that he, or his representatives, had called on at least 1500 homes and had covered one-eighth of the business section and would stay and finish the job he has started.

He employs five men and eight women as assistants and states that so far the people of this city have been especially kind to him, co-operating in every possible manner with his work in their work. He asked that this co-operation be continued as without it he could not be successful.

When asked as to his reason for figuring 15,000 rats killed by his method, he stated that the majority of the dead rats are picked up by boys in his employ and burned at the rendering plant. Each employee tabulates the number turned over to the rendering works and his report is based on the figures they turn in.

During the past week numerous farmers have visited at his hotel here asking for instructions as to carrying on the work at their homes and he has been compelled to hire an extra room to accommodate the visitors who come for information.

WEBB DEATH PROBE

If Any Prosecution is Instituted it Will Be for Murder, Says Rowland

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Oct. 9.—District Attorney Rowland, who continued today to present to the grand jury evidence bearing on the death of Mrs. Charles Webb, declared that if any prosecution is instituted, it would be for murder only.

This statement was made after reports had become current that he planned to prefer charges of perjury.

Mrs. William T. Hunter of Devon, Pa., was the first witness today. As an aunt of Mrs. Webb, she has claimed to have received letters and telegrams from her niece's husband, in none of which did he inform her that his wife's illness was serious.

Other witnesses awaiting to be questioned today were Mrs. Hunter's husband, and their son, Edmund, 21, who was a beneficiary under one of Mrs. Webb's wills, made prior to that in which she bequeathed her entire $200,000 estate to her husband. Former Judge Robert S. Johnstone and Mrs. George Taylor, friends of Mrs. Webb, also appeared.

Dr. Otto J. Schultz, New York specialist who attended the autopsy and who was reported to have said the circumstances instilled suspicion, will be a witness before the grand jury. District Attorney Rowland said.

"Dr. Schultz," said Mr. Rowland, "took no part in the autopsy. He really was a bystander. But when Mr. Hunter urged that he be called I readily acquiesced."

FLAMES STILL BEYOND CONTROL

Fire Spreads With Terrific Speed Through Mass of Buildings on Water Front

Four Buildings in Ruins at 1 O'Clock With Fire Still Spreading

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 9.—Fire, breaking out and spreading with terrific speed through the mass of buildings along and near the water front at Dyer and Dorrance streets, shortly before noon today, had developed by 1 o'clock into what promised to be the most disastrous conflagration in the city's history.

Four alarms, the last sounded within 25 minutes after the first, brought to the scene nearly every piece of available fire fighting equipment in the city. At 1 o'clock the blaze was still beyond control and spreading.

Buildings completely destroyed up to that time were:

The six-story brick Lewis building, occupied by John D. Peck, Inc., hay and grain dealer.

Plant of the Providence Coal Co., including its big coal pocket.

The large wooden structure formerly used as the trolley freight station and now occupied by John D. Peck, Inc.

The plant of the Eastern Coal Co., was in flames and firemen saw no chance of saving any portion of it.

Across the street the building of Allen & Read, Inc., repeatedly caught fire, while on Dyer street, southerly from the Lewis building, firemen and employees were making desperate efforts to save the contents of the big yard of the Charles C. Gardiner Lumber Co.

At 2 o'clock the fire department was able to keep the fire confined to the block on Dyer street, the river and two ships in which it originated. Six buildings will be a total loss, three badly damaged and several slightly damaged.

A sharp signal from a policeman's whistle warned 14 firemen sent in time to rush from under a falling wall. The total loss will be at least $300,000.

COAL GOES UP 50 CENTS
BOSTON, Oct. 9.—The retail price for anthracite coal advanced 50 cents a ton in Boston today. Net, stove, oak and furnace grades were quoted at $14. The increased price dealers attributed in part to an advance of $1 a ton placed on anthracite at the mines by operators.

CENTRAL BRIDGE PAYMENT HELD UP UNTIL FULL BENCH MAKES DECISION IN MATTER

Judge Crosby in Supreme Court Refuses to Allow Motion of Construction Company That Restraining Order Be Dissolved, Until Such Time as Appeal From Finding of Single Justice is Finally Adjudicated

(Special to The Sun)
BOSTON, Oct. 9.—The Engineering Service and Construction Co. cannot collect or secure any money due from the City of Lowell for work on the reconstruction of the Central bridge until such a time as the full bench of the supreme court finally disposes of the case now appealed from the finding of the single justice.

After hearing arguments today by attorneys for the city, the construction company and Dennis E. Conners, et al., Judge Crosby refused to allow motions presented by Attorney John M. O'Donoghue, asking that the injunction and temporary restraining order now existing be dissolved. Each, therefore, remains in full effect until the full bench makes final disposition of the case.

Judge Crosby asked attorneys for Conners, et al., if they intended to take their appeal before the full bench, and they replied in the affirmative. Mr. O'Donoghue then asked as proof of their good faith that all papers and records in the case be filed on or before Nov. 1, and the judge thought this only fair and said unless these records were filed on or before that date he would dismiss the appeal.

In arguing the motion this morning Attorney O'Donoghue, representing the construction company, declared that the appeal has been taken by Conners, et al., simply for the purpose of delay and is not based on justifiable cause.

William D. Regan, representing the city in the absence of City Solicitor Patrick J. Reynolds, opposed dissolving the injunction and restraining order on the grounds that the city's position would be precarious and uncertain should the money involved be paid before the full court reviewed the case, with a possibility existing for a modification of the decree of the single justice.

The law firm of Baucus & Mengler of Boston, representing Conners, et al., also asked that the motion be denied.

AUTOIST FINED AND SENTENCED FOR DRIVING WHILE UNDER INFLUENCE OF LIQUOR

A sentence of one month in the house of correction and a fine of $100 for operating an automobile while in violation with two other machines in an additional fine of $10 for drunkenness, were imposed on Edward C. Cote in district court this morning. Appeals were taken and defendant ordered to recognize in the sum of $300 for his appearance in superior court on the first Monday of next month.

Cote pleaded not guilty to both charges. His arrest followed a collision with two other machines in Tewksbury on the night of Sept. 24, when he was taking Joseph Charron, an employee of the state hospital, to that institution from this city. Charron was also arrested after the accident and charged with drunkenness.

FRENCH DREDGER WITH CREW OF 15 AND 25 OTHERS BELIEVED TO HAVE GONE DOWN WITH ALL HANDS

HAVRE, Oct. 9.—The French dredger Normandie, with a crew of 15 men and with about 25 others, members of their families on board, is missing and fears are entertained that she has gone down with all hands. The dredger, which has been working from Caen to the Gobury canal, left for Havre across the mouth of the Seine three days ago, and has not since been heard from. Tugs have been looking for her, and the search is still being continued.

BLOOD PURIFIERS

Organic diseases charts compiled in the last five years show deaths from some form of heart disease increasing very rapidly.

Intemperate habits in our mode of living and eating, as well as our seeming inability to adapt ourselves to our swiftly moving American civilization are the causes.

Marked floods are being made also by the so-called "blood" diseases, or those that affect the blood vessels and the normal blood supply.

Blood disease is a recognized medical question of some significance, as is the study of its causes and effects.

Are there medicines which are blood purifiers?

So much "blood purifier" has been taken during the past 50 years that one naturally would expect a great decrease, instead of an increase, in blood disease.

Properly speaking, there are no blood purifiers. The taking of honest, wintergreen and pine buds may be all right for punishment or bitter taste, but not for purification of your blood.

Compounds, tonics, bitters and extracts, when they contain about 30 or 40 per cent. of alcohol or some other alcoholic stimulant, make the blood trip a little faster all right, but they do not purify it.

Right living, good plain common food, less tea and coffee, more milk and pure water will purify your blood stream. Combine these with good fresh air in your living rooms and plenty of out-door deep breathing, plus the right kind of exercises, and you will not have to worry about your depleted blood supply or how you are going to purify it in the spring time or fall.

Meeting of Members of Merrimack Valley District—Officers Installed

A.O.H. hall in the Grosvenor building was filled to capacity on last Sunday by members of the Irish National Foresters from the Merrimack Valley district, comprising Lowell, Lawrence and Haverhill. The occasion of this large gathering was the joint installation of the recently elected officers of the O'Neil Foresters and the St. Elizabeth branches of Lowell, and also the election of officers for the Merrimack Valley district council. The installation exercises were carried out by the District Chief Ranger, James H. Handley of Lawrence.

The installing officer was efficiently assisted by John J. Hallway of Haverhill, who acted as marshal for the officers of the O'Neil Foresters branch, and Miss Helen Ryan, also of Haverhill, marshal of the St. Elizabeth branch.

At close of the installation when the newly elected officers were inducted to their respective places, perhaps the most interesting of the remarks made were those by Mr. Thos. J. Nevin, who having served as financial secretary for the past fifteen years was given the honor of chief ranger. Remarks were also made by Ed. J. Cronin, retiring chief ranger and Joseph J. Handley, incoming financial secretary. A social session followed, the program being arranged by organizer J.

H. Handley. The entertainment following the ceremony included songs by Miss Anna McGovern, Mrs. Kathleen Aubrey, Mrs. Anna Shaugnessy, Mr. Patrick Luehan, Mr. Thomas Costello, and readings by Dennis J. Cadogan, treasurer, Michael J. Mitchell, financial secretary, Ellen A. Howard, Lowell, recording secretary, Dennis J. Cadogan, Lawrence; board of trustees, Mary A. Dillon, Lowell; Helen Ryan, Haverhill and Joseph L. Handley, Lowell.

GETS DISSOLUTION OF PADLOCK ORDER

The premises of 517 Middlesex street owned by Jacob Fox and recently occupied by the cigar store of Joseph Cayonette are not to be closed for a year under the "padlock law."

Federal Judge Anderson in Boston yesterday, by injunction, Alexander Cayonette and his assistant, Alexander Cayonette, from doing any business at that stand for a term of one year. This injunction was asked by Assistant United States District Attorney Elihu D. Stone, who also asked that the building be designated a common nuisance under the Volstead act and ordered closed.

Attorney Stone's petition was supported by affidavits of prohibition officials, who swore they had purchased liquor there.

Mr. Stone was unsuccessful in effecting the closing of the building for one year. Jacob Fox, the owner of the property, through Attorney Frank Goldman, succeeded in securing a dissolution of the padlock order under the terms of which he may rent the store for other purposes but not to the former tenants.

Bureau of Engraving and Printing recently printed 315,226,000 postage stamps in one day.

Buy Comfort—Not a Pile of Castings

The Sunbeam Furnace is not simply a large metal drum with a fire pot and a few odd castings. It is a scientifically designed, carefully proportioned heating plant—the outcome of many years of close application to heating problems and their solution.

We have bought Sunbeam Furnaces—Pipe and Pipeless—and believe in them because we have seen what unusual heating service they have rendered under widely varying conditions in homes all over this section. Come in and let us tell you and show you more about them.

GUNMAN GAVE BLOOD IN RECEPTION FUND NEARS ATTEMPT TO SAVE PAL THE $2000 MARK

DETROIT, Oct. 9.—Jesse Bunker, alias Murphy, alleged gunman and holdup man, was back in his cell at police headquarters after giving a pint of his blood on the operating table in a vain effort to save the life of a fellow prisoner, John Szewooski, fatally wounded in a revolver fight with detectives Sunday night.

Bunker was one of four men captured a week ago when detectives surprised them in an attempted holdup of a saloon. Bunker, according to police, has confessed participation in more than 200 holdups in Detroit, and has been identified as one of the "Attendants Inn" landlady who, in their fight from the Inn shot to death a motor policeman at Monroe, Mich.

LONDON, Oct. 9.—The imperial conference discussed British foreign affairs for more than five hours yesterday in the light of Foreign Secretary Curzon's recent statement, and at the end of the day decided to tell the public nothing of what had transpired at the session. This secrecy produced the customary crop of rumors, verification of which must wait until the end of the week when it is understood a report will be issued.

Criqui Broke Hand in Bout With Hebrans

PARIS, Oct. 9.—Eugene Criqui fractured his left hand in winning a decision over Henri Hebrans, the youthful Belgian Saturday night, and will be unable to fight for months. It is estimated that Criqui has foregone purses totalling close to 1,000,000 francs in order that he may keep his word to fight for charity. These bouts included three no-decision eight-round matches in the United States. His exhibition tours in Europe in October and November have been abandoned.

Rheumatism —Neuritis

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has, therefore instructed druggists everywhere to dispense ALLEN'S RHEUMATISM CURE, with the understanding that he will freely return the purchase money on the first bottle to all who state they received no benefit. For sale at A. W. Fitch's Co. and all druggists.—Adv.

Take Celery King three times a week for three weeks—that helps.

Say: "I want Celery King." Your druggist will know he is handling you the king of tonic laxatives.—Adv.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 9.—All changes necessary to make Constantinople once more a real Turkish city are to go forward as rapidly as possible and the authorities assert that Turkish will soon be the dominant language even in the European quarters. It is apparently intended to replace all foreign language street signs with Turkish and to have all titles on motion picture films printed in the native alphabet. It's reinforced "where the wear comes"

EACH Derry-Made mattress, and this is just one more reason why it's a good mattress, is engineered, designed right, then built as a bridge, layer on layer, tier on tier, of selected, carefully garnished, cobweb-thin sheets of cotton.

This plan reinforces and multiplies the natural resilience and supporting power of each tiny cotton spring.

Next comes a cross-stitch structure, adding extra filler at points of greatest strain, building up and strengthening, again like the bridge, so that the mattress can never break down or develop hollows no matter how long it serves.

Finally come the deep cuts and strong, Derry-Made stitching which lock and bolt this carefully built structure of cotton felt in place; and after a final inspecting Derry-Made inspection, out goes a perfectly built mattress, honestly reinforced to resist the abuse of constant use, to support you on countless "little journeys" to dreamland!

If you want a mattress you know has been built—not blown—-and "reinforced where the wear comes," you should confine your selection (using the Derry-Made cabinet, of course, to guide you) to one of the

The complaint was placed on file this morning.

According to Cote's story, Charbon approached him in a drunken condition on the night of the affair, and asked him to procure a machine and take him back to the infirmary, as he was due that night. As a matter of accommodation, Cote said, he went to his garage, got his machine and proceeded in the direction of Tewksbury. He denied having taken any liquor during the trip, but said his companion was very drunk.

While attempting to pass another machine on a narrow stretch of road, he said, his car sideswiped the other and crashed into a second machine coming in the opposite direction. He claimed he was thrown out of his seat by the impact and didn't "come to" for about three minutes, when he couldn't recall just exactly what had happened. His face was bleeding from multiple cuts. Charbon was unhurt.

Victor Lambert, a friend of Cote's, was returning from Boston at the time and was at the scene of the accident a few minutes after its occurrence. On the witness stand this morning, he stated that Cote appeared to be dazed but there was no evidence of liquor. He volunteered to take the injured man to a doctor for the purpose of dressing his wounds and as Cote insisted on being attended by Dr. McLean, who has an office in Middlesex street, Lambert drove him there. Upon reaching the office, Lambert departed, and Cote went upstairs unassisted, only to find that the doctor was not in. It was while awaiting the arrival of the doctor, Cote said, that a friend offered him a drink of liquor out of a bottle. He took it and then went to the hospital, where eight stitches were required to close the several cuts. The only drink he had that night, according to his testimony, was the one he took in the Middlesex street building.

In disposing of the case, Judge Wright said he was satisfied that Cote's story was not true, and returned a finding of not guilty.

Sentence Suspended
Officer Thomas Maloney was called to the home of Peter Boszon in Fayette street last night. When he arrived, Peter's wife exhibited to him a gas tube, claiming that her husband, in a drunken rage, had beaten her with it. She said he does the same thing every time he gets drunk. Asked for an excuse for his act, Boszon replied that he was drunk and couldn't remember. A five months' sentence in the house of correction was imposed, and the sentence was suspended for a year.

Frank Frost of Needham was fined $5 for operating an automobile without a license. He was driving down Prescott street in the direction of Merrimack last Sunday night, when Officer Owen Conway objected to the speed of his car and asked for the driver's license. Frost produced a certificate which did not contain the necessary signature at the bottom and which had expired several months ago.

Frederick Hout was found guilty of non-support and was given a suspended sentence of three months in the house of correction with the understanding that he contribute $10 weekly to the support of his family.

Donat Dion, who was arrested yesterday for operating an automobile in a manner to endanger the lives and safety of the public, was continued until Oct. 15.

One violator of the milk law was found guilty and paid a fine of $10. Milk Inspector Adolph Maester appeared as the prosecutor and told the court the below standard quality of the defendant's milk might possibly be due to the producer's carelessness.

Violated City Ordinance

Thomas J. Lawlor was fined $5 for violating a city ordinance with regard to parking motor vehicles in the downtown section of the city. Defendant was brought into court on the complaint of Traffic Officer Clyde Aldrich, who testified that Lawlor allowed his machine to stand for 40 minutes in front of Chalifoux's store in Merrimack street between the hours of 5 and 6 o'clock last Saturday night. The ordinance regulating traffic in this area was passed by the municipal council in 1920, and was introduced by Deputy Downey during the trial of the case this morning. It reads as follows: "No vehicle shall stop, or stand in Merrimack street or Merrimack square, from a point on Merrimack at that is a 75-foot westerly from its intersection with Central st." As Lawlor's act was in direct violation of this ordinance, the $5 fine was imposed. Judge Wright remarked that the spot chosen was "one of the worst places in the city to park and especially on a Saturday night." Saturday night.

STILL ON DANGEROUS LIST

Bertram Childs, the 11-year-old Littleton boy, who was seriously injured last Sunday as the result of an automobile accident in Littleton last Sunday, though somewhat improved is still on the dangerous list at the Lowell General hospital.

EXPLAINS GREAT SPEED WHEN SLEEP DOES

Double Camber Wings Enabled Navy Flyers to Make Four Miles a Minute

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 9. Commander Marc A. Mitscher, U.S.N., who was in charge of the navy entrants in the Pulitzer speed event of the international air races here last Saturday, credits double camber wings with having permitted the navy flyers to attain the unprecedented speed of more than four miles a minute.

The double camber wings are convex on both sides, said the commander, increasing the upper and lower lifting surfaces.

It was this new departure in airplane construction which permitted the navy planes to outstrip the army planes, which were of the same pattern, excepting the double camber feature, by as much as 30 miles an hour, he said.

NOT REFRESH

Case of This Salem Woman Presents Characteristic Symptoms of Anemic Condition

When you are losing strength and weight and feel badly all over, when your stomach rebels, sleep is broken and your color fades—when you have all or any of these symptoms you need a tonic for the blood. You require a medicine that will benefit the whole system. The blood reaches every part of the body and when it is built up the whole system benefits.

"I was in a run-down condition and kept losing strength all the time," says Mrs. Mary Godkin, of No. 18 St. Paul street, Salem, Mass. "My trouble was anemia, or thin blood, and although I was treated for a long time and spent a lot of money on medicines I got very little benefit. I was pale and nervous, had no appetite and what I ate did not do me a particle of good. I was cold all the time and if I walked any distance I would be all out of breath. My sleep was broken and I would get up in the morning unrefreshed.

"I was so discouraged that when my sister advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills it was a long time before I started to take them. I am glad now that I took her advice and am sorry that I waited so long. After the third box of the pills I could see that my strength was returning and that I could sleep better. I had an appetite and food tasted good. Soon my color began to return so that my friends noticed it. My nerves became stronger and I began to put on flesh. I have recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to others and shall use them myself if my blood ever gets thin again."

Write to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for the helpful booklet, "Building Up the Blood." Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 60 cents per box.—Adv.

RUTH ST. DENIS AT AUDITORIUM, OCT. 23

Last January on their first appearance in Lowell, Ruth St. Denis, Ted Shawn and the Denishawn dancers held their audience spellbound. More splendor to dazzle the eye could scarcely be found in the follies. Miss St. Denis and Mr. Shawn displayed the full glory of the dancer's art. There were brilliance, youth, beauty, grace and sincerity to the highest degree. Their program a week from next Tuesday, Oct. 23, will be a new one, and will include the new ballet, "The Spirit of the Sea," "The Hopi Indian Ballet," the score of which was written by Charles Wakefield Cadman, a great ballet creation entitled "Ishtar of the Seven Gates" and new dances from Spain, Algiers and Bali.

Miss St. Denis has retained several of her last season's phenomenal successes—music visualizations, Spanish Suite, Nocturne, a Teller drama and Oriole, including the dances of China, Japan, India, Siam and North Africa. There is every indication that the Auditorium will be filled for this performance. Since the appearance of Miss St. Denis and her company last season those who attended at that time have been keenly enthusiastic in their praise. It is a great show wonderfully costumed and staged. Seats are on sale at Steiner's on Saturday morning, Oct. 13. No telephone orders will be taken for tickets after that date and reservations already made will be held until Monday, October 15, excepting in cases where deposits have been made.

DRASTIC DEMANDS MADE OF GERMAN GOVERNMENT BY GROUP OF RUHR INDUSTRIALISTS

Action Follows Consultation Between Hugo Stinnes and Gen. de Gouette—Want Authority to Continue Negotiations With Occupation Officials—Vote of Confidence Given Chancellor Stresemann

BERLIN, Oct. 8.—Important, even drastic, demands were made of the German government today by the group of Ruhr industrialists headed by Hugo Stinnes, who recently were in consultation with General de Gouette, the French commander-in-chief, at Dusseldorf.

Authority to continue negotiations with the occupation officials in the Ruhr was one of these demands.

Provision for longer working hours for German workers both in the mines and above ground was another.

The demands were handed to the government by Herr Stinnes himself.

ed, would be 8½ hours, and above ground 10 hours.

The industrialists also asked what the government's attitude would be toward the creation of a railway company in the occupied territory in which the Rhineland, France and industry would participate.

Vote of Confidence

BERLIN, Oct. 8.—Having given Chancellor Stresemann a vote of confidence in the face of opposition by the nationalists, the communists and the Bavarian people's party, the Reichstag today considered the measure that gives the government extraordinary authority in dealing with economic and financial problems. The bill was approved yesterday by the Reichsrat or Imperial council.

Chancellor Stresemann's victory in obtaining a vote of confidence was strengthened by the rejection of a resolution to abolish the state of emergency in the Reich and in Bavaria, and by the passage of a socialist resolution endorsing the government's constitutional attitude toward exceptional measures in Bavaria.

There was a turbulent scene in the Reichsrat yesterday when Count Westarp, the German nationalist, criticizing the central government, demanded a breach of relations with France with all its consequences.

Westarp's supporters applauded and shouted "war," which called forth a demonstration in opposition from the left.

Hugo Stinnes writing in the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, his own newspaper, expressed the opinion that Germany would have been better served by a cabinet of non-partisan experts than by the reconstructed coalition ministry which, he felt, may not have sufficient authority to accomplish needed reforms.

Water Department

Men Laid Off

months, when there is no call for their services and he removed their names from the payroll, the only thing left for him to do.

He has since received another letter ordering him to lay off 4 more who were hired under the same circumstances and is at his wit's end to know what to do to keep his department going. The four mentioned in the letter have not been laid off as yet and Mr. Gardner is writing a letter to the commission asking it to reconsider its decision and allow him to keep them on the payroll for at least six weeks more and to hire back the five who were laid off last Saturday.

Speaking of the matter today, he said: "I am doing my best to comply with the rules and regulations of the civil service commission but the condition now is such that I do not know just what to do. The water department hires every year a number of laborers to do the outside work during the summer months, such as extending mains, laying new service pipes, erecting hydrants, etc. These men are needed for this work but they are not needed for the winter months as there is no outside work to do that cannot be done by the regular force. Under the rulings of the civil service commission the city is allowed to hire men temporarily for periods not in excess of six months, after which time they become regular and permanent employees and must be kept on the payroll regularly."

Mr. Gardner added that at this time of the year it would be poor policy to hire new men under the six months' rule of the commission as they could not carry on the work as quickly as the men who have been working on the job all summer. If permission is granted him by the commission to re-employ the men laid off last week and keep the four mentioned in the latest letter as due for removal, the department can easily finish its schedule, otherwise the work will remain undone.

This is not the first time that this condition has come up in the water department. Last year a number of men were laid off before the cold weather because of orders issued by the civil service commission, and Supt. Gardner believes that some change will have to be made in their regulations concerning his department if he is to carry out the schedule of work laid out for him in a reasonable length of time and at the minimum of expense.

CONTINUE PROBE OF DEATH CASE

Jury Wants Chas. Webb, Husband of Dead Woman, to Tell His Side of Case

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Oct. 9.—The Westchester county grand jury will continue its investigation into the circumstances surrounding the death of Mrs. Gertrude Emily Gorman Webb, wealthy New York and Philadelphia society woman, despite the fact that medical experts testified yesterday that sufficient poison had not been found in the body to have caused death.

After the seven doctors had finished their testimony, declaring that the corrosive substances discovered in the dead woman's vital organs could not have caused her death without contributory causes, it was stated on good authority that District Attorney Rowland suggested that the investigation be dropped. The jury, disregarding his suggestion, demanded that more witnesses be summoned.

So far almost all those heard by the grand jury except the medical experts have been of the opinion that Mrs. Webb met death under mysterious circumstances. The jury now wants to hear the other side of the case, and asked that Charles H. Webb, husband of the wealthy society woman, be given an opportunity to tell his side of the story. Mr. Webb was invited to appear tomorrow.

The Best Cough Syrup Is Home-made

Here's an easy way to save $5, and yet have the best cough remedy you ever tried.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? When you do, you will understand why thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will quickly earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex, then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Grand Dragon Jewett Arraigned on Charge of Rioting at Oklahoma City

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 9.—(By the Associated Press) Grand Dragon, N. J. Jewett, the highest officer of the K.K.K. in Oklahoma, will be arraigned in justice court today for preliminary hearings on a charge of rioting in connection with a flagging here a year ago in which he is alleged to have participated. He is the first officer of the secret organization to fall into the net spread by Gov. J. C. Walton for those responsible for mob violence and masked depredations in the state.

Grand Dragon Jewett was arrested Sept. 21, on the basis of evidence adduced by a military court which functioned under the governor's decree of martial law.

Since his arrest Jewett has been at liberty on $1000 bonds. He pleaded not guilty.

RUSH TO ASSISTANCE OF GROUNDED SHIP

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 9.—In a message picked up by the Federal Telegraph Co., here at 4:30 a. m., the motor ship Kennecott, a cargo carrier of 6010 deadweight tons, reported herself "high and dry on rocks" at a point near the boundary between Alaska and British Columbia. Owned by the Alaska Steamship Co., the Kennecott carries a crew of 20.

The steamship Northwestern was reported pushing to the Kennecott's assistance from an unknown position.

The Kennecott was en route to Seattle from the Orient via Alaska. She was in Japanese waters at the time of the earthquake, and for two days was reported lost, finally appearing at Koshu.

The tide was in when the Kennecott went aground and heavy seas pounded her before the tide ebbed.

The passenger steamer Queen which last night was reported near the point where the Kennecott grounded was unable early today to move because of a cracked cylinder, she wirelessed. The Queen said she was anchored safely. She carries a crew of 45 and is believed to have comparatively few passengers.

HEAVY FLOOD DAMAGE
IN OKLAHOMA CITY

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 9.—Oklahoma City's flood hazard has increased hourly today as another rise in the North Canadian river swept down to augment the swollen stream which for three days has overspread the lowlands. Scores of families have been driven from their homes by the water which stands 10 to 15 feet deep in some places. Railroad service southward from Oklahoma City has been seriously hampered; street car tracks and paving have been swept away and the most direct artery of communication with Pickingtown, the packing center in the southern section of the city, has been severed.

The river, normally only a score of feet wide, is a raging torrent a half-mile in width.

Bouts are being used to save livestock and other domestic animals. So far as can be determined, there has been no loss of life.

FRIEND OF NURSE WHO WAS SLAIN HELD

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 9.—Walter Hauke, a close friend of Miss Elsie Barthol, a nurse who was slain early Sunday in the old Hussey mansion, was to be further questioned by police today. Alonso Savane, negro voodoo doctor, is alleged to have confessed to killing the nurse by striking her with a brick when she refused him payment for "curing her love ills."

Detectives admit there is no tangible evidence on which to hold Hauke, but the finding of two of Miss Barthol's handkerchiefs in his pocket and alleged discrepancies of his stories told before and after Savane's arrest have caused his detention. Police are also investigating Savane's story that he entered a taxicab driven by Hauke after leaving the scene of the slaying.

Laborers Start Work for Recovery of Bodies of Gen. Oglethorpe and Wife

GRANHAM, Eng., Oct. 9.—Excavations under the church of the Church of All Saints here for the recovery of the bodies of General James E. Oglethorpe and his wife were begun this morning. A number of local laborers, directed by Dr. Thornwell Jacobs, president of Oglethorpe university, who seeks to have the remains reinterred in Georgia, and the Rev. Leslie Wright, rector of the church, broke through the concrete flooring with crowbars and sledge hammers similar to those used in perforating the tomb of Pharaoh Tutankhamun at Luxor.

The workmen encountered heavy layers of stone and mortar and it is expected that two or three days must elapse before the bodies can be reached.

COMMUNICATION

To all citizens, including law makers and those having the execution of the laws, who have the welfare of children at heart and who recognize the lawlessness of the present generation.

Lawlessness has become so general throughout the state that it behooves us to find out the cause and help to remedy the evil.

Is it the fault of inadequate laws or the fault of those appointed to see that the laws are obeyed, or the indifference and apathy of citizens in general?

Under the law as administered, the police say they are powerless. The children believe it and defy owners of property to touch them.

The question is: Is there a law that enables the owners of property, or tenants of property to detain children (from seven to seventeen years of age) caught in the act of trespassing, stealing fruit and vegetables, breaking windows, setting fires, damaging property, etc., and to send for a policeman who will take them to the police station. Will the law permit compulsion of parents or guardian with the offender to appear before the juvenile court and to be required by the judge to pay damages on the spot if they do not want any publicity or delay in the matter?

If parents pay damages for mischief committed by their children, they will soon find a way to bring the matter to court if they are not able to do this, the state steps in.

Unless authority is given properly owners and tenants to detain an offender until a policeman can be called, the chances are but one in a thousand that the policeman will find the offender.

If there is such a law as here suggested.

Guarantee Rheuma
For Rheumatism

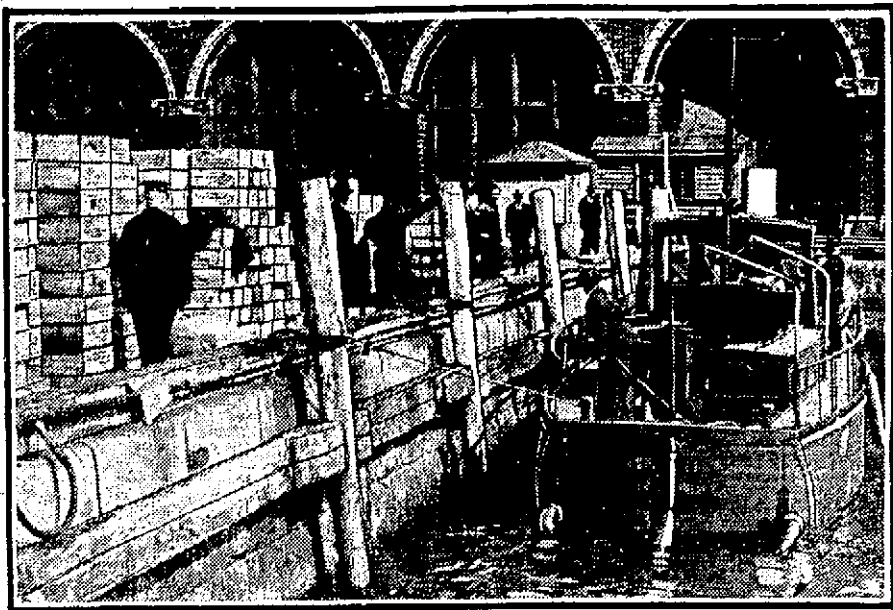

What chance does any sufferer take when Rheuma is guaranteed to banish rheumatism, lumbago, gout and kidney ailments, or money back?

Why not investigate this offer? Talk to Green's drug store about it. Rheuma must drive rheumatic poison from the system, bring swollen joints back to normal, and relieve all agony, or it costs nothing.

People so crippled with rheumatism that they could not walk have been absolutely freed from the iron grasp of the demon, rheumatism, with the Rheuma treatment. A few hours after the first dose Rheuma begins to dissolve the uric acid and drive it from the body through the natural channels.

Everybody can afford Rheuma—it's not expensive at any druggist, and money back if not entirely satisfied.—Adv.

AH, WOE IS THE GOOD SHIP ATLANTA!

A SERIOUS CASE OF NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

Benefited by WINCARNIS

"Some time ago I had a very serious nervous breakdown. I was in such a debilitated condition that an infection of my blood followed an attack of ulcerative sore throat, and I began to lose weight and strength at an alarming rate. As my condition grew worse, it became impossible for me to get a full night's sleep. When my nervousness and weakness became almost unbearable I began taking Wincarnis, and the improvement was very noticeable before I had finished the first bottle. I am now myself again, and both my father and my son are taking Wincarnis because they have seen how wonderfully it acted in my case. Wincarnis is certainly a remarkable tonic for those suffering from nervous exhaustion, thin blood, sleeplessness or great debility."

NEW MANAGER FOR SLATER SHOE STORE

The Slater Shoe organization has sent Jack Kemp, one of its best men, to Lowell as manager of its store at 25 Central street. Jack arrived fresh from Broadway yesterday and took over the Lowell store.

A complete rearrangement of store and stocks was ordered as his first move on arrival. Steps to make the windows even more attractive and to gain for the store the prestige which Slater stores have "always maintained in every municipality where located were immediately taken.

Mr. Kemp is an experienced salesman in the retail shoe business and has gained a reputation in the Slater system because of his genial personality, his ability to add class to even the classiest of stores and his remarkable success in increasing sales volumes wherever he may be placed.

ADDING TO THE SPAN OF LIFE

This week two great health events are in progress in Boston. One is the meeting of the American Public Health association and the other the Boston Health Show, which opened last Saturday. It behooves the citizens of Lowell to watch the newspapers for the doings of the Public Health association, as its deliberations are of the utmost importance not only to municipalities but also to individual citizens and health officials as showing the progress made in the science and art of safeguarding and conserving the health of the people at every point and every age. This includes prenatal hygiene and infant welfare, school hygiene and industrial hygiene, mental hygiene and social hygiene, the gospel of pure food, fresh air, exercise and rest, together with the more obvious attempts to prevent or control the spread of epidemics.

Already medical science as represented by the association now in session in Boston has lifted one-third of the burden of disease that beset our forefathers of a century ago. It is now estimated that ten years of life have been added to the span of human life by closer attention to the scientific principles of health and hygiene, sanitation and disease prevention.

The medical men have already conquered many diseases and they are steadily ridding others which in time will also be placed under control if not entirely eliminated. If the people would co-operate with the American Medical association in applying the principles of hygiene, living as illustrated at the Boston Health Show and in the clinics of the various medical institutions, the results would be even greater than the most sanguine health worker has ventured to predict.

AN EDUCATIONAL QUESTION

United States Senator David I. Walsh in an address delivered at Pittsfield, denounced in no uncertain terms the Sterling-Towner educational bill as against the interests of education generally, an encroachment upon the rights of the states and likely to make education a political football throughout the country. The address was delivered before the annual convention of the Berkshire County Teachers' association. This is one of the measures favored by the political plotters who want to build up a great system of bureaucracy at Washington to control not only the education of the people but to authorize interference in their domestic affairs as provided for under the Shepard-Towner bill. In each of these measures there is something in the nature of a bribe offered to the states in order to secure their co-operation with a system which unless for the more backward states, would be utterly against their best interests.

It is to be regretted that the National Educational association has favored the Sterling-Towner bill, yet this is not at all strange when it is considered that various states in the west and south which expend very little for education, see in the passage of this measure a chance to compel the northern states to contribute largely to the work of raising the educational standard in all the unprogressive states. If Georgia or the Carolinas do not see fit to maintain a respectable school system, this fact should not warrant any draft upon the financial resources of the northern states that expend money most liberally for the advancement of every branch of education within their own borders. Education is becoming more expensive from year to year and the northern states have enough to do to take care of their own educational institutions without helping to lift those of the south to the northern level.

CHILD LABOR AMENDMENT

When the United States supreme court recently declared the last child labor law unconstitutional, Chief Justice Taft, suggested that a constitutional amendment giving congress the power to pass such a law, was the best way of solving the problem. In accordance with that suggestion, an amendment based upon drafts drawn up by Senators Lodge, McClellan and Johnson, is to be introduced at the next session of congress with prospects of success. The southern states have always opposed the child labor legislation for the reason that they will be chiefly affected by the proposed change.

The need of such an amendment is obvious from the fact that over a million children between ten and fifteen years of age were at work in the United States as shown by the census of 1920. That census, however, did not include the vast numbers of little ones from six to ten years old employed in the sugar beet, onion and cotton fields, in the street trades, and tenement workshops. Nor does it include the thousands of children who were permitted to return to the mills and factories after the former child labor law was declared void. The future of this country demands that the children of every state should have a fair opportunity for growth, play and education. It is also important that a uniform child labor law should be applied to all the states in order to prevent unfair competition such as exists at the present time between the textile factories of Massachusetts and those of the south in which children are employed from ten to eleven hours a day.

It is important that Massachusetts should make her influence felt in support of such an amendment and in observance of child labor week. Lowell should make her voice heard with no uncertain sound in support of this movement, to put a stop to the exploitation of children in industry and for the promotion of education, for a more rugged manhood and better American citizenship.

In no other state of the Union is child labor so rigidly outlawed as in Massachusetts. The compulsory school law requires that the children remain at school from the age of seven till fourteen and that between the ages of fourteen and sixteen, they must attend a continuation school for part of the time. All pupils are required to complete the sixth grade before leaving school; but even if they have completed the sixth grade or graduated from the high school under sixteen, they will be obliged to attend the continuation school at least one afternoon per week. That arrangement should insure to each child a fair education which can be supplemented by attendance at the various evening schools. Thus it is plain that no factory in Massachusetts can employ child labor without incurring the penalty of the law. If such laws prevailed in every other state of the Union we should soon see an end of illiteracy in the United States.

LLOYD GEORGE

Lloyd George is with us and is getting a rousing reception wherever he goes, which is but a fitting tribute to a man who has shown great ability as premier of England during one of the most trying periods in her history.

He is here, it is said, to fulfill a life-long ambition, not to speak a word, and not to write a book; but at the same time, he will continue to give his views of men and things and incidentally to put over some important propaganda concerning his own country and conditions in Europe. In his speech at Montreal, he said Europe is suffering from a plague of greed and materialism, and that is probably a fact. He did not say whether England was included in that category, although the first part of the complaint was applied to Britain long before the World war; and whether she has undergone a change of heart since the close of that great struggle, is not clear. It has been stated, however, by prominent clergymen from this country that the wave of materialism of which Lloyd George speaks has not reached England. Indeed, it is said that the horrors and sacrifices made during the World war, have had the effect of awakening a deeper religious feeling throughout England. In that, England is fortunate. We surmise that Lloyd George's reference to materialism was based chiefly upon conditions in Russia, Germany and Turkey, in all of which the war has brought a reversion to irreligion and materialism.

But we must be grateful to Lloyd George for his promise not to write a book about us. Many distinguished British visitors who made a hasty tour of our country and enjoyed our hospitality, hastened to write books about us on their return and in which they said some very nasty things! The performance of Dickens was not so bad, but Kipling showed a contempt for everything American and the same might be said of various other visitors of lesser note. Even Chesterton is to be included in the class that with very superficial knowledge of our customs proceeded to criticize Americans as if he had lived here for years.

Lloyd George has shown tact by announcing that he has no intention of writing his impressions of America. It will relieve Americans who are to receive him, of the dread of being made the subject of his criticism when he returns home. The ex-premier is too much of a politician to do anything of that kind.

AIR IN CITIES

City air has as much as 100 million particles of dust to the cubic foot, but this drops to about 5 million particles on a clear morning after the air has been "washed" by a rain. Who did the counting? An unnamed job on the payroll of the weather bureau.

The dust consists of fragments of rubber tires, lime, germs, earth, shoe leather, etc. When you consider city life from all sides, the wonder is that we have so little illness.

Truck gardeners notice that vegetables growing near cities are contracting more plant diseases year after year. Man pollutes the atmosphere so that even plant life has difficulty living in it. Our congested civilization, with its machinery, is a generator of poison gases and the worst of these is auto exhaust.

WEATHER FORECASTS

It is possible that, in the future, the weather forecaster will be able to predict as far as a month ahead. So claims the weather bureau, which already has had considerable success in this direction, sometimes striking it right three out of four times, in forecasting both temperature and rainfall.

Maybe this would have considerable commercial value. But it would make life duller, for one of the most interesting features of existence is the uncertainty of the weather. The future loses most of its charm when it becomes too certain—too cut-and-dried.

CHILDREN

Many of the money troubles of that well-known institution, the American home, are due to allowing sons and daughters to live there without paying board. So claims Miss O'Neil, home economics adviser of a big eastern bank. She apparently has an incorrect notion of the number of families permitting this board-free arrangement. But she's on the right track.

It is unfair to children, not to train them for responsibility. A child should work for everything it gets. The kind of work, or the amount, doesn't matter—just so he learns that money is the result of someone's labor.

CITY WATER BILLS

The city council would be justified in passing an ordinance that will make water bills a lien on the property on which the water was used. Lowell has a splendid water supply, but it is an expensive one and for that reason the department cannot allow it to be wasted or to be used by people who do not pay for it. Where property changes hands quite frequently there is sometimes a misunderstanding as to who should pay the water bills. If the bills are made a lien on the property the city will always be sure of payment.

No, the High School Alumni will not show a narrow spirit in renting Alumni Field for Sunday football, providing the law be enforced. That is fair enough. It should not be expected that the alumni would be a party to any infraction of the law. Indeed the leaders in charge of the park would wish that the law were not so strict in regard to admission fees and charges of any kind.

The fact that nearly 1000 have already enrolled in the evening classes of the Textile school, indicates a very general desire on the part of mill operatives to improve their condition in life. They can do this by acquiring the technical skill necessary to enable them to attain higher positions. The Textile school offers a great opportunity to mill workers.

The Spanish War Veterans of Lowell will doubtless make a grand showing in the Boston parade on Friday in observance of the 25th anniversary of the war. It was a small war, but men who died in it could make no greater sacrifice for their country. Let us honor their memory and honor the men who gave Cuba her freedom.

It seems that despite the efforts of the police, the bootleggers are doing business in and around Lowell. We are not as badly off in this respect as some other cities but conditions call for increased activity on the part of the police.

Apparently the autobots were endeavoring to take advantage of one of the last ideal week-ends of the fall season on their Sunday tours. As a result we had an unusually large number of accidents. Recklessness, the cause was usual.

SEEN AND HEARD

After days like the last two or three it is easy to see how fall rivals spring in beauty.

Is the rejuvenation of high school football in Lowell at hand? We hope so.

One or two thoughts to keep in mind. The Red Cross campaign for Japanese relief is still on, and the High School Alumni association needs a few hundred more dollars for Alumni Aid.

A committee of Lowell men and women are interested in child labor legislation. General public support is needed and the cause is worthy.

Lowell's new famous Central bridge case was back in supreme court again today. And all this over a reconstruction job. Lucky a new structure was not built, or unluckily, which is it?

A Thought

They have won the wind, and they shall reap the whirlwind.—Hos. 8:7. Consequences are unifying. Our deeds carry their terrible consequences, quite apart from any fluctuations that went before—consequences that are hardly ever confined to ourselves.—George Eliot.

Ought to Be Easy to Find

One entire brick pile, containing 2000 red bricks, was stolen from the yard of a Providence (R. I.) building supply company. Half of the brick pile disappeared one night, and the thieves performed the unexpected and took the remainder on the following night.

The Rub of the Green

Playing the "ball as she lies" is an old rule of golf. Charles Handy of Lynn, a member of the Salem Golf Club, was a good sport, and rather than take the one stroke penalty which his previous mistake had lodged there, just as he did the jump broke and he tumbled to the ground and broke his nose.

"Grey Rocks and Greyer Sea" Grey rocks and greyer sea. And surf along the shore—And in my heart the name—My lips shall speak no more.

The high and lonely hills. Endure the darkening year—And in my heart the name—A memory and a tear.

Across the tide a sail. That tossed and blew—And in my heart the name—That longing dreams upon.

Grey rocks, and greyer sea. And surf along the shore—And in my heart the name—That I shall see no more.

CHARLES G. D. ROBERTS.

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

"Concord High, Welcome!" That was the inscription on a large and conspicuous sign along the fence at Alumni field last Saturday during the Lowell high-Concord (N. H.) high football game. Those three words meant more to the visitors than the most voluminous cheering and they showed that the local high school athletic authorities are sportsmen clean through. It was about a year ago that George Sheehan, present captain of the Lowell team, sustained a broken leg in the annual tilt with the New Hampshire-Lites. Nothing was too good for the Lowell boy during his confinement in a Concord hospital, the high school students of that city even sending him flowers and other gifts. It was but fitting that the Lowell should "Welcome, Concord Lites!"

Club life is picking up now with cooler weather setting in. The young fellows who forgot the club, yes, even the dues, many of them, during the summer months are commencing to drift around these cool evenings. As a result, the summer alien in the odd corners is ended and billiard tournaments, card tournaments, dances and all sorts of peppy parties are being planned. The old fellows can keep the clubs a-going and make good balance wheels but it takes youth to start the wheels flying.

Clubs are not alone gaining in the number of daily visitors. Drop into the public library today and you'll find how recent change you could have noted any time in the past four months.

Could anyone desire more delightful weather than we have had the past few days. Autumn is here, in all its splendor and once again we hear the rustle of the hunter's robe through the trees, the nervous rustle of the leaves in the tempting breezes; and the occasional twitter of the birds basking in the warmth of the inviting sun. It is perfect weather for motoring, especially through the winding roads which lead one into the woods. Autumn is one of the most beautiful seasons of the year, but to appreciate its magnificence, one must get out in the wilds, among the birds, and the lavish beauties of Nature.

In connection with Fire Prevention Week it is noted that the schools are not forgetting the need of fire drills. I have noticed several such drills during the past fortnight in my rounds about the city with both public and private schools awake to the need of them. As disciplinary and precautionary measures they rank high. The need of such drills is especially keen at this time of the year, particularly in the lower grade schools where so many pupils find themselves in a big company for the first time.

The prescription that doctors have been striving to run-down patients for years, namely, that of playing golf, has proven such a health builder that the physicians themselves are taking up the game, one after another. And some of them are proving themselves mighty good players, notably Dr. C. L. Allen, who in the last two years has been a model performer on the links. When a doctor takes his own prescription it is safe for his patient to follow suit.

Then blacksmiths might flatten out pieces of this London fog and make them into fog horns.

London sculptors might try taking the thickest of the fog and carving statues on it.

Some day you may read of thousands of Englishmen giving way and London fog caves in.

If London fogs get thicker they may address post cards in raised letters for the postmen.

Perhaps fogs are so thick in London they could roll the things out for asphalt paving.

By adding flavoring to the thick London fogs they could put in tubes and sell for tooth paste.

Perhaps, in London barber shops, they just spread a little thick fog on for shaving lather.

It would be getting too foolish to say London fogs are so heavy they can't see the French plans.

"PADLOCK" PROVISIONS OF VOLSTEAD ACT

An injunction was issued by Judge George W. Anderson in federal court in Boston yesterday against Joseph Cayouette, proprietor of a store at 317 Aldershot street, this city, and his assistant, Alexander "Duchman" ordering them to vacate the premises for a year. This was the first time the "padlock" provisions of the Volstead act were applied by a federal court in this state.

The injunction was sought by Assistant United States District Attorney Elihu D. Stone, who asked that the buildings designated be adjudged a common nuisance. The petition was supported by prohibition agents who testified that they had obtained liquor there.

Investigation here today revealed the fact that Cayouette gave up the business two weeks ago. Although on two occasions injunctions have been issued against druggists restraining them from selling liquor for a year, yesterday's order was the first in which an injunction was issued closing a place of business.

Met an honest hatter Saturday. Bought a new soft hat and left the old one to be fixed up. Cleaned, blocked and a new band I thought would do the trick. "Why a new band?" asked the hatter. "I can turn this one inside out and it will look just as good as new." That's what he is going to do and when I buy another hat that is where I'm going to buy it.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem

EXHAUSTED

I sing of "Pep" and "Vigor"
As virtues to be stressed;
Of life that's "lived with vigor,"
And Vim and Pluck and Zest.
"Go forth," I shout, "and battle
With all your strength and grit,
Don't be dumb-driven cattle
But show some Go and Git!"

"Go forth, my noble 'Jonker'
(That's 'Youngster' writ in Dutch).
Go forth, go forth and conquer,
Don't let fate stop you meek!
Keep Strivin', Tryin', Fightin'
(Such snappy lines as these
Are stronger, more excitin'
If one leaves off the 'g's!)

"Be bright and blithe and snappy,
Be brave, courageous, gay"—
What's that you say, young chappy?
I'm not a bit that way?
I have no pep, you snigger?
Yes, what you say is true,
I've used up all MY vigor
In my advice to you!

LOWELL UNIT OF 94TH SALESMANSHIP COURSE DIVISION EXPANDS OPENS AT Y. M. C. A.

Capt. Joseph M. Reilly of Co. B, 375th Infantry of the 94th Division, Organized Reserves, has announced the promotion of Private James M. Burns to sergeant in the company. Sergeant Burns, who is employed as a compositor on the Lowell Sun, has spent two summers at the Citizens Military Training Camp at Devens and the experience thus gained well qualifies him for the position.

Capt. Reilly also announces that there are still a few non-commissioned officers' posts to be filled in the company and he will gladly receive applications from any young men qualified to fill these positions. Applications for membership as privates in the company will also be considered by Capt. Reilly but these must come from young men who have had some infantry experience. It is the aim of the officers to have quality rather than quantity, in order to maintain the high standard of efficiency already established by this division.

Capt. Reilly, who saw service during the World war, being one of the first young men in Lowell to enlist in the United States forces, is proud of his organization which he says, contains one of the leading field officers of the army during the World war, and he is recognized as a master military strategist.

Co. B was the first reserve company assigned to Lowell, and the 94th Division was among the first whose insignia was recognized by the war department. The division headquarters are in Lynn, Col. Bolles, commanding officer of the division, was one of the leading field officers of the army during the World war, and he is recognized as a master military strategist.

Col. Bolles is a severe task master, so far as his subordinate officers are concerned, and he insists that his men faithfully keep up in their course of instructions. This course is prescribed by the war department for all officers in the reserve organization. It is a careful theoretical training in military tactics, which are put into execution during the summer training period. The high standard of the officers and men of the division was highly commended upon at the close of last summer's camp by Sec. Weeks of the war department.

Applications for enlistment or information may be addressed to Capt. Reilly, 201 Pleasant street.

PINEHURST CAMP DESTROYED BY FIRE

A camp in Billerica near Pinehurst was razed and about sixty acres of scrub land burned over yesterday by a fire which started at about noon and resisted the combined efforts of the Billerica, Bedford and Burlington firemen until late last evening.

Starting near Pinehurst at the Shawshoe river, which is not much wider than a brook at this point, the fire soon jumped the river and burned over about 15 acres in Billerica. Spreading into Bedford, about 40 acres were burned over and in Burlington about 5 acres were also burned. The only monetary loss was the camp, the owner of which is not known.

The course in salesmanship at the Y.M.C.A. opened with a free demonstration last evening by E. J. Cooney of the Lowell Gas Co., who is to be instructor. There was a good attendance at the session last evening and the class as formed will consist of about 20 men. Mr. Cooney gave an explanation of the course and briefly explained the principles of salesmanship. "Every man is a salesman, trying continually to sell his ideas, principles and energy," said Mr. Cooney. "If the salesman does not know the fundamentals he will not be able adequately to serve in the capacity of salesman. He must also know the people to whom he must sell his wares. He must have a keen realization of their situation and a real sympathy for them. He must also know himself and know how to put himself into every selling problem."

Sessions will be held every Monday evening, and men who are interested will be given a further chance to enroll this week. Information may be had from the Y.M.C.A. phone 163.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

B. F. KETTER'S THEATRE
There is much to praise and little to censure in the program at B. F. Ketter's theatre this week. Six acts of snappy entertainment and a feature motion picture showing here for the first time make up a vaudeville salad of unusual worth.

As a headline attraction Miss Julia Nash and Mr. C. H. O'Donnell return to the city in a one-act skit of brilliant repartee captioned "Mama's Car." The tragic attempt of a wife to learn to drive an automobile, a collision with a Rolls-Royce hardly ten blocks from home and the ravings, criticism and suggestions of the husband as to how "it should have been done," give easy opportunity for a conversational sketch brimful of comedy. Miss Nash and Mr. O'Donnell take every advantage of the situations which arise and provide 20 minutes of delightful entertainment. In a small sustaining part Miss Marjorie Dow is most capable.

For symphonizing melodies exceptionally well sung the team of Combe and Nevins ranks with the best. They are a pair of well groomed lads possessing pleasing voices that blend together easily and the numbers they elected to sing last night instantly found recognition and appreciation.

A couple of cake eaters from "upper lakeview avenue," full of new dancing steps and with ability to put over a song as a sure-fire hit—that's Lyell and Paul. Their interpretation of "He Loves Me" was the best we ever have heard locally and their other selections ranked just as high. As a dancing team, too, they are at the top of the deck.

Speaking of decks, that is, decks of cards, consider Arthur Lloyd, the travelling card index system. Here is a novelty sure enough and one that will carry an appeal all through the week. Unrestrained "comedy" from the gallery last night did not help him any, but hopefully this will be eliminated

Remember?

It isn't such a far stretch for memory to recall the day when you had to wait for a long, clear, cold spell of weather before you could have sausage.

Today?

No wait for weather or seasons. Just telephone your meat dealer.

The delightful tang of October days is made more zestful by a breakfast of Brookfield sausage, made from the choicest morsels of carefully selected pork, blended with spices.

That is but one of the services that Swift & Company renders—making available to you numerous products of the highest quality, when, where, and as you wish them.

This has been made possible by the development, during more than a half century of service, of 23 packing plants adjacent to the best producing centers, hundreds of branch distributing houses, one of them near you, and several thousand refrigerator cars which carry the meat to your dealer in the best condition.

Volume production enables Swift & Company to offer you this service at an average profit from all sources of only a fraction of a cent a pound.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

by the management for the balance of the week.

The airs and dances of Scotland are revived again—they never grow old—by Miss Jessie Stirling and her eight Glasgow maids, resplendent in kilts and tartans, plus bagpipes and drums. It is one of the best acts of its kind now in vaudeville, which is saying considerable.

Sensational work on aerial rings is done by Homer Romaine in opening the show. The feature motion picture, "Pioneer Trails," shows Cullen Landis and Alice Callahan with a capable supporting staff in a drama of the west of 60 years ago. Thrill follows thrill in endless procession and the Vitaphone company spared nothing in its attempt to make it a screen epic. The Pathe News Weekly, "Tonics of the Day" and an Arson Tale are the other picture features.

On Columbus day (Friday) there will be three shows, at 1:30, 4:45 and 8 p. m.

HIALTO THEATRE

More pictures like "The Flirt" which is now showing at the Hialto, and there would be no more motion picture censors. Clean, brilliant and dramatic, "The Flirt" is one of the best pictures ever offered a public as an antidote for sin, sorrow and slumber. Booth Tarkington wrote it as a vivid cross-section of American family life. It was filmed at Universal City under the direction of Linhart Henly and is released as a universal-jewel production with a cast that is entitled to be called "all-star."

"The Flirt" is a story of the folks next door, of folks who ask a blessing at the dinner table and dress up on Sunday and laugh with life through tears. The story opens with the Madisons at the dinner table. Father at the head, daughters on either side and a kid brother where we could almost reach out and box his impish little ears.

Corra, "The Flirt" begins her conquest for hearts and her quest for power. Ellen Percy plays the role brilliantly. Laura, her sister, is established as the sacrificing girl of hidden emotions. Helen Jerome Eddy is admirably suited. George Nichols, as the father, is heroic. The unfolding of the story finds him battling against Corra's selfish greed and brutal pride for enough money to keep his home together and his name clean. Other members in the cast who deserve special mention are, Rudde Messenger, who, by the way is the best laugh getter we have seen in some time, Harold Goodwin, Ed Hearn and Lloyd Whitlock, one of the screen's best known villains.

If you like good, strong and virile outdoor pictures you will go into superlatives when you see "Table-Top Ranch" starring Neal Hart, which is the second feature on the bill. The theme of this western picture deals with a band of cattle rustlers, who are in the end captured by Neal Hart, but not until many thrilling and exciting adventures and obstacles have been encountered. As a story, it you like action, combined with some regular "he-man" acting you'll like "Table-Top Ranch."

"Speed Buggy" as the name would indicate is an extremely funny comedy and it contains plenty of good laughs. Many unusually good stunts and comedy gags are shown in this new Century comedy and they never fail to hit the mark. A Pathe News, with all the latest events from all parts of the

Easier to Iron With—

EVERY Housewife takes great pride in the dainty, fresh appearance of her linens.

It is often difficult to get good results with ordinary starch that forms a sticky jelly when it cools. For this sticky starch clots and smears when you try to iron clothes.

All this is now overcome with Linit, the remarkable new starch discovery.

Linit is a scientific starch—distinctly different from ordinary, old-fashioned starches. Linit gives that soft, cool, pliable finish to all fabrics, making even cotton goods look and feel like expensive linen.

Linit makes a THIN, "MILKY" MIXTURE, free-running like water, which is quickly absorbed by the fabric, thus saving the time and labor of "smearing on," which was customary with the old-fashioned starches. The Linit mixture does not present the stiff, jelly-like appearance of ordinary starch. This is why you will find it easier to iron with Linit.

98 OUT OF EVERY 100
WOMEN BENEFITED

An Absolutely Reliable Statement
Important to Every Woman

Remarkable Results Shown by a Nation
Wide Canvass of Women Purchasers of
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. 50,000 Women Answer

For some time a circular has been enclosed with each bottle of our medicine bearing this question: "Have you received benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?"

Replies, to date, have been received from over 50,000 women answering that question.

98 per cent of which say YES. That means that 98 out of every 100 women who take the medicine for the ailments for which it is recommended are benefited by it.

This is a most remarkable record of efficiency. We doubt if any other medicine in the world equals it.

Think of it—only two women out of 100 received no benefit—98 successes out of a possible 100.

Did you ever hear anything like it? We must admit that we, ourselves, are astonished.

Such evidence should induce every woman suffering from any ailment peculiar to her sex to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and see if she can't be one of the 98. The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Of course we know that our medicine does benefit the large majority of women who take it. But that only two out of 100 received no benefit is most astonishing.

It only goes to prove, however, that a medicine specialized for certain definite ailments—not a cure all—one that is made by the most scientific process; not from drugs, but from a combination of nature's roots and herbs, can and does do more good than hastily prepared prescriptions.

You see, we have been making, improving and refining this medicine for over 60 years until it is so perfect and so well adapted to women's needs that it actually has the virtue to benefit 98 out of every 100 women who take it.

Its reliability and recognized efficiency has gained for it a sale in almost every country in the world—leading all others.

BUTLERS AND CADETS MEET FRIDAY IN CLASH FOR AMATEUR FOOTBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

The eyes of the local amateur football world will be turned to Alumni hall next Friday afternoon (Columbus day) when the time honored rivals, the O.M.L. Cadets and the Butler A.A. will engage in the season's first championship classic in the race for the ring leadership. A year ago, the Butlers annexed the city championship and were awarded the Frank Hildner trophy in token of their accomplishment. It is estimated that nearly 15,000 fans witnessed the three hectic struggles featuring these ancient rivals last year, the first being a draw in the scoreless final duel being captured by the Gotham street representatives. Some of the best football ever seen in Lowell developed during those affairs. History is due to repeat itself this season. At the present writing the military men seem to have the edge. This opinion is based on the fact that they have materially strengthened their line with the acquisition of Art Lesmoine, Dan Coughlin and Tadin Thorne, the headiest and most rugged war-torn veterans of the sport. In addition to these, the backfield has improved immensely because of the signing of McKimsey, of Texile school, and Johnny Murphy, late of St. John's Prep. The team also has the advantage of having engaged in a greater number of contests this year than the Cadets. The latter has lined up on three successive Sundays and pulled through with a win on each occasion, while the Butlers have two victories to their credit against mediocre talent. Be that as it may, the Butlers will not concede victory to the White and Blue. The Gotham street aggregation showed last year that they had plenty of courage and stamina and could withhold their own against the best of them. With a backfield composed of such experienced gridirers as Lager, Rogers, Britton and Conway, the red-jerseyed athletes will present a shifty bunch of men and a crew capable of outgunning all kinds of opposition.

MANTY HOPES TO TURN TABLES ON MURPHY

Four boxers are anxious to meet southpaw. An entire change of one's style is necessary to successfully combat the wares of a positiver. But once a man succeeds in solving the intricate delivery of an opponent who does with the right extended he does not hesitate at accepting a return engagement. All of which explains Charlie Manty's readiness to fight his next Friday night to tackle Billy Murphy, Lowell's sensational southpaw featherweight. When these boys meet in Lowell a year ago Manty then held the S. E. featherweight title. Since then he has lost it to Chick Sings. While negotiations were under way Manty imposed obligations on himself to defeat Sings, which protected his crown. Murphy could not, according to the contract come in at the recognized featherweight mark. Hence regardless of the outcome Manty's title was drawn up because Manty recognized Murphy's southpaw style might bother him. Thus the Whaler had the right to demand a fight before the fight had progressed very far. Manty's peculiar style and his speed had Manty bewildered in the early rounds, thus enabling the

JONES-WALKER BOUT STOPPED

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 9.—The bout between Jimmy Jones, renegaded in New York state as a welterweight champion of the world, and Mickey Walker, generally conceded that non-or in other states was ordered stopped at the end of the ninth round by Chief Boxing Inspector Adolphus Lombard at 22 minutes. Disappointment with the way in which the fight was progressing before many rounds had passed. Cheers and cries of "stalling" were soon heard and by the time the seventh and eighth rounds were reached many were leaving.

Lowell boy to pull up a most formidable lead. Manty, though on the short end, kept punching all the while and in the 11th round he succeeded in getting his opponent's attack and as a result he failed and came very near "knocking" the local boy in the ninth. Manty's success in not only finding a defense for Murphy's projectiles but also in being able to penetrate his guard and actually take the offensive gave him the confidence to seek and accept another match. He is out to start the coming battle as he pushed the other and he believes this plan will enable him to wipe out the reverse of a year ago.

Who'll Be Notre Dame's New Star?

(UPPER) MAYL (LOWER) MILLER

Notre Dame has one of the finest guards in the land. Mayl, end, is a star of great value both on the defense and offense. His Miller, of the famous Miller family of footballers, has few superiors in the west as a tackle. Notre Dame's first big game comes with the strong Army eleven at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, Oct. 13. It will not only be the most important game of the day but one of the most important of the year. The Cadets will put a strong team on the field. Equipped with a veteran line and one of the most formidable backfields in the history of the institution the West Pointers will be hard to down. The addition of Tiny Hewitt, former Pittsburgh battering ram, assures the Army one of the finest ball carriers since the colorful days of Elmer Oliphant. Notre Dame hasn't been tripped up by the Army for a number of years, though the boys were held to a scoreless tie a year ago.

BOYLE BEATS QUILL HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL SQUAD IN ACTION

Lowell Boy Lands Clean Cut Decision Over Brockton Rival in Nashua Bout. The high school football squad was given an easy drilling at Alumni hall last night. Coach Lester yesterday afternoon. All the players reported in good shape after the second game and will now begin preparations for the contest with Brockton on the afternoon of Saturday day. The game will be played in the upper city and several hundred local supporters are planning to accompany Lowell's warriors to the scene. Practice sessions were continued this afternoon and will be in order tomorrow and Thursday. As Manchester will enter the game with a weight advantage they will have to rely on speed to come through victorious. That Lowell's men have this essential attribute was clearly proven in last Saturday's win.

TRINITY AND LOWELL TEXTILE SATURDAY

Trinity College of Hartford, Conn., will be the opponent of Lowell Textile next Saturday at Hartford. Showing a complete reversal of form in the game with the General Electric Trade school of Lowell, Trinity Coach Bull's men have acquired the confidence necessary to express and will enter the Trinity battle with optimistic hopes of victory. Assistant Coach Danahy has taken charge of the second-string men and this afternoon trotted them out to the field for a friendly scrimmage with the high school seven. Last year the high school showed considerable strength against the millmen and succeeded in scoring a touchdown. The first two rounds were all Trinity, but Quill gained the third because of his rushing, speeding and powerful feet. Just as the bell rang in this round, Boyle landed a terrific right to Quill's jaw, sending the latter to his corner in a groggy condition. From then on Boyle made his own way with quill making desperate attempts to wrench the fight away from him. Boyle fought on the occasional body blows when the opportunity was offered. In the eighth, both boys began to show the result of the strain and were in a third condition. However, Boyle was in this and in the two remaining rounds, but Boyle's early advantage earned him the award which was popularly received by the majority of the fans and especially the Lowell contingent. Lefty Williams of Lowell led the defense in two Desrosiers of Nashua in the semi-final of eight rounds. With the exception of the first two rounds Williams was on the defensive.

Agreeable Weather Conditions for First Two Games Predicted—Final "Polishing Up" Practice Sessions at Yankee Stadium and the Polo Grounds

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—World series fans in tomorrow's play will find conditions for the first two games of the Yankee-Giants series in a bureau of the local weather bureau. The forecast for the first two games is: "Fair today, Wednesday and Thursday, little change in temperature, general moderate north and northeast winds." The probable announcement will follow the final "polishing up" practice sessions this afternoon at the Yankee stadium and the Polo Grounds. To

EXPERT SAYS YANKS MUST WIN FIRST GAME TO TAKE SERIES

BY TOM SWOPE

Sports Editor of the Cincinnati Post

From the time the pennant-winning teams of the two major leagues started playing regularly for the world championship, back in 1903, the first game always has been considered the big one.

The Giants sort of exploded this a little in 1921, when they won the series after losing the first two games.

This year, though, the first game loomed bigger than ever. If the Giants win it I believe they will romp through to another triumph over the Yankees without a great deal of trouble, coping the series in about five games.

I look at it this way because I believe the Yankees will lose a lot of their pep if that first game goes to their National league rivals.

The Yankees are going into this series determined to do or die. They've had a great season. They have played together as a machine instead of as a lot of individuals who were trying to set individual records.

In 1922, and 1923, Miller Huggins had teams of great individual strength but lacking in team play because his clubs were packed with prima donnas who were out for themselves. Several of those fellows still are on deck, but cured of their swelled heads. They found out last October that the Giants, playing together, were their masters, so this year they went in for team work and have put over a great winning record.

However, if they lose the first game of this series, they are going to ask themselves if they really class with the Giants. A defeat at the start of this series is going to make them doubt their own ability. They won't be able to shake off the memories of what happened to them in 1921 and 1922. But the Yankees in that frame of mind and they are going to have lots of trouble winning more than one game.

That's why the first game of the series looks like the big one from the Yankee point of view, to me.

With the Giants it's different. They are used to the drawn out struggle by losing the first game with defeat at the start of the series will not be any mental hazard to them. They are used to coming back after being in the hole. The Yankees are not.

In 1921 the Giants did not end up after losing the first two games. They just played in and won five of the next six.

What they did that year will keep their fighting spirit alive this fall, even should things go against them at the start.

Regardless of the outcome of the first game, I believe the Giants will win the series for the third straight time. They have had a tough season and have ridden down the home stretch in the finest possible condition. McGraw had no cripples on him when it came into Cincinnati recently and finally disposed of the Reds, who gave them plenty of fight.

His team not only is physically fit but mentally sound. The Giants are not overconfident about the Yankees. They believe the Yankees have improved a great deal. In my opinion they credit the Yankees with making a bigger improvement than the American league champions have made.

I think the easy path the Yankees have trod to the pennant is due, in a great measure, to a falling off in the strength of their opposition.

However, it is good for the Giants to think they are in for a hard fight. It will send them into battle expecting real opposition. They will get it, too, if the Yankees manage to win the first game. But if the Yankees do not win that first one a clean sweep for the Giants would not surprise me.

Last year the Giants pretty thoroughly exploded the theory that a ball club must have an AI pitching staff to win a pennant or a world series. They again showed it up this year.

John McGraw has no world beaters pitching for him. The Reds and Pirates have superior pitchers and so has Brooklyn. Yet the Giants won the pennant.

McGraw handled his pitchers this year so as to get the most out of them and that was good enough to lick the rest of the National league. His opposition was stronger this year than last, yet his club, with five games still to play and one in the discard, had won as many games as it captured in the entire season of 1922.

If one pitcher couldn't win a game McGraw called on two, three or four of them. It was a whole flock of pitchers who were good for two to five innings each and he used them that way. He'll not let the Yankees give any one pitcher much of a beating this fall but I hardly expect him to find it necessary to jock his hurlers as often as he did in the heat of the National league campaign.

For one thing, the series will be played under weather conditions which will not sap the strength of his pitchers. For another, his leading hurlers are in their best form this season and, in the Yankees, are not going against a ball club that is as dangerous as some of the National league teams which the Giants bested this year.

For a while this season it appeared the Giants were just going to stumble into their championship. They faltered but kept in front because the Reds and Pirates were slumping along with them.

But in the final drive the Giants moved up and played at top speed. I look for them to be at their best against the Yankees and win their third straight world championship.

WEST POINT-NOTRE DAME, M'CREEARY WINS BOUT

Laborers Transform Ebbeis Field From Diamond to Gridiron for Big Game

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Laborers began today to transform Ebbeis field, home of the Brooklyn Dodgers, from a diamond to a gridiron in preparation for the annual clash next Saturday between West Point and Notre Dame.

Charles H. Ebbeis, owner of the park, has undertaken a new seating arrangement which promises to increase the capacity and at the same time give the spectators a better broadside view of the game. The grid will run from home plate to center field, instead of parallel to first or third base, as in previous seasons.

The Hoosier squad will reach New York next Friday for an afternoon workout at the Brooklyn park. They will be quartered at the Westchester club, at Riverdale, where the club point field has been put at the disposal of Coach Rocker for practice.

Up at West Point, the Army already has begun the grand practice of grueling work in preparation for the encounter, with a 30-minute mixer heading each day's work. Reports that the Hoosier eleven is underweight and green are not taken seriously there, and drillmasters of the squad are outspoken in criticizing their men for slow and bunglesome tackling.

It has become apparent that someone must be developed in a hurry to replace Don Stork, three-stripe veteran at right end, whose leg injury improves so slowly that it is considered certain he will be unable to appear against Notre Dame.

Intercollegiate interest in Saturday's schedule is shared by "College" and "Pro" fans. At Columbia, the football experts say Dick Harlow has the best college team in years.

Yale, which confronts the University of Georgia four days hence, and Princeton, matched with Georgetown, both concede they have work to do. Yale is appearing on the practice grid with two new faces in the squad, as a result of the faculty's removal of the disqualification placed on freshmen last spring.

Weston's 13 to 6 victory over Princeton has caused quite a flutter on the campus at Columbia in the opinion of the university's session with the Connecticut crew next Saturday. Captain Koppisch is out with the squad again, and may be in condition for the West Point contest.

NAVY CLUB PLANS BIG CELEBRATION

Plans for the Lowell Navy club's celebration of Navy Day, October 27, will be discussed at a meeting of the organization tonight in the high school annex on Paige street. The meeting is called for 8 o'clock and all ex-servicemen are urged to attend.

A tentative plan for the observance of Navy Day, drawn up at the club smoker recently, is to hold whitetail races on the river in the afternoon and to have moving pictures depicting navy life and a program of speakers at the Memorial Auditorium in the evening. If this plan is accepted at tonight's meeting, Congressman John Jacob Rogers will be invited to give the main address at this affair.

OUT OUR WAY

AS SOON AS SIMS FINDS PARK LADS CAN BEGIN

BY TOM SIMS

WOOLWORTH TOWER, Oct. 9.—Leaving Columbus Circle yesterday, I decided to visit the Yankee stadium, where the first game of the annual New York world series will be played.

That was more than 24 hours ago and the Woolworth building is the closest I have been able to get to the stadium since.

So I came up in the tower here hoping to look out and spot the place so I could walk to it instead of trying to ride subways.

But I was too late. It is dark now. The billion lights of Gotham twinkle as far as you can see, even making the stars overhead appear to be their reflections. I can open my eyes and see what Firpo and Dempsey recently saw out there some place with their eyes closed.

The protecting mantle of darkness has fallen. All you can hear from this great height is the railroad wheels, forty street cars trying to climb the tower, six hundred pedestrians wondering if as many motorists will please get off their necks and nine thousand golfers missing six-inch putts, all of which resembles what I was hearing this same night five years ago—a St. Michel barrage.

Tomorrow is October 10, if the calendar doesn't lie. I have been in New York three days now and wouldn't be surprised to find even the calendars here do lie. I know the subway guards do. But if this tomorrow really is October 10—tonight is the night before the first game of the annual New York world series.

So out among these twinkling lights seen from the tower here the ticket speculators are speculating on how much admission they should charge and some sports baseball fans are speculating whether they see, the games or see the baby in new shoes.

George Herman Ruth is out there some place. Wonder what George is thinking tonight? But he closes his eyes and sees the last year's series with everybody laughing at him. Then he grabs an imaginary bat and bounces an imaginary ball off the imaginary nose of the imaginary man in that real moon.

Wonder what McGraw is doing? Probably standing before a mirror signaling for the three men on base to come in when Meusel hits.

But the hot dog boys are practicing new ways of yelling so you can't tell what they say: the official announcer is sticking gum on his false teeth or stuffing his megaphone with mush so you won't know who substitutes for whom; all the fat men are swapping for seats in the middle of the row so they can squeeze past you, and the ushers are planning to make everybody walk around the field twice.

What are the players doing? The rookies are hoping enough of the regulars get the tougher; the regulars are thinking back to the old bush league days and how they are being rubbed down, massaged and smoothed out like new cement sidewalks.

Perhaps the umpires are taking out more life insurance. Anyway, the annual New York world series starts tomorrow and nobody is as worried as I am about where they have moved the Yankee stadium.

The Spaulding boys have reorganized and will get into action for the first time next Sunday. Many former Unity players will appear in the Spaulding lineup. Sullivan, Sylvester, Hooper, McEnna, Batchelder, Heron and McInnis having signed. Others to the lineup are F. and J. Carroll, Gibbons, Dunne, McLaughlin, Ryan, Dempsey, Freeman and Laddford.

The Y.M.C.A. Juniors will open their season next Sunday when they play the Murray Stars at Washington park.

The Butler Midgets defeated the Glenmore Thirlds last Saturday by the score of 13 to 6. The winners would like to play the Dodgers. The team is composed of R. Murphy, Clark J. Ryan, T. Ryan, Healey, Muldoon, Broderick, Seaton, Lemore, Walsh, Caldwell, Harlan, Brady, P. McMahon, Sheedy and Moran.

SOX SCANDAL RECALLED TO SELECT NOMINEES FOR SPECIAL ELECTION

Rothstein Says Fuller Won $22,500 From Him on Series Game

NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—E. M. Fuller of the bankrupt brokerage firm of E. M. Fuller & Co. won $22,500 from him on the third game of the 1919 world series, Arnold Rothstein, alleged gambler, testified yesterday at the Fuller-Motley hocketspot investigation before Referee Coffin.

Rothstein, who today was under notice to return next Monday to sign his testimony and answer further questions, made this statement after William Chadbourne, attorney representing Fuller creditors, had sought to link the Chicago White Sox scandal and the 1919 series with the Fuller case.

After Rothstein had refused to answer questions as to whether the White Sox series had been "fixed," Chadbourne explained that he "understood" Rothstein had won $22,500 from Fuller on that series, and wanted to find out how much he knew about the bribery.

Referee Coffin warned Rothstein several times because of his attitude and answers in reply to Chadbourne's questions about the witness' acquaintance with Abe Attell, J. J. "Sporty" Sullivan and others in connection with charges of bribing Chicago players to throw the world series to Cincinnati.

Rothstein admitted that he knew Attell and Sullivan, but denied that he ever talked with either concerning the series.

BIG WRESTLING SHOW ON COLUMBUS DAY

Battery B will stage a monster wrestling show at Bunting park on the afternoon of Columbus day, with four high class bouts on the card. It is one of the most ambitious programs ever attempted at a local wrestling carnival. In the main event, Charles Marshall of Brunswick, Me., will meet Prof. Arthur Davis, instructor at Tufts college in a bout for the New England light heavyweight championship. Tiger Parvula, champion of Haverhill, will meet in a bout and Kid Fournier of the Battery and Jim Donnelly, local flash, will meet in the other.

The principal speaker, Rev. W. Quay Roselle, pastor of the First Baptist church of Malden, was introduced by Dr. Babcock and gave an interesting talk on the subject: "Bright Gleams in the Ecclesiastical Sky." A vote of thanks was made to the speaker and to the hostesses, and the meeting was adjourned.

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 1

Have you ever gone hunting through the woods for hickory nuts? Well, that's what Jack Daw was doing when he discovered a great castle that he had never seen before. Jack had just about filled his sack with nuts when, just ahead of him, the beautiful castle appeared.

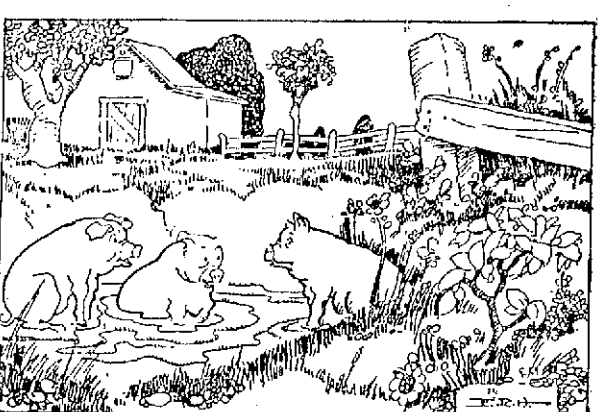

Gee, thought the little adventurer, I certainly would like to see what the inside of that place looks like. And, at that moment, as he stood staring at the great stone building, a little balloon floated out of one of the windows. It soared slowly down toward Jack.

"Oh!" shouted the boy, "someone has lost this balloon." And, when the big, round bag of air came close enough, Jack grabbed hold of it. He then discovered that there was a stick on the balloon and, as he held this tightly, the balloon itself began to swell up. (Continued.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

"LET'S TALK ABOUT SOMETHING TO EAT," SAID PIGGY WIG.

Piggy Wig Pig and Saucy Snout Pig and Twisty Tail Pig were all lying side by side in a cool, muddy puddle in Squaky-Moo Land.

They looked like three sausages that had been stuffed too tight and were ready to burst if you touched them.

Piggy Wig Pig was black. Saucy Snout Pig was white and Twisty Tail Pig was black and white, but just now they were brown all over, for they had rolled in the mud and dried off and they were sights to behold!

"Let's talk about something to eat," said Piggy Wig Pig.

"Yes, let's," agreed the others.

But to Xuncy and Nick and Mister Dodger, the fat men on the other side of the fence, it just sounded as though one pig was grunting, another squealing and another snorting, such funny noises they made when they talked.

"I like buttermilk with corn cobs floating in it," said Piggy Wig Pig, smacking his lips.

"And I like the days they have apple pie!" said Saucy Snout. "Then they dump all the apple peelings and apple cores into the trough. Um!"

"Oh, I like anything!" declared Twisty Tail. "Um, particular. Cider's good, though. I like that."

Now, I didn't tell you that there was another little pig in the field, but there was!

A nice, clean little red fellow, who wasn't very fat, or very big, or very curly—his tail wasn't—and he wasn't dirty at all! But he was very hungry.

Farmer Brown had bought him from a neighbor, and he felt very lonely and forlorn, for the other pigs wouldn't look at him at all!

Just then there was a loud bumping. It was Farmer Brown emptying his slop pails into the trough at the pigsty.

Instantly there was a scrambling, and off started the four pigs for their lunch.

"Get out!" squealed Piggy Wig Pig at the stranger.

"Wait till we're through," grunted Saucy Snout over his fat shoulder.

"Well, give you what's left," called Twisty Tail.

That's the way it always was. No wonder poor Reddy Pig was so thin and hungry. For there never was anything left!

But suddenly something happened. Nancy grabbed one greedy pig by his hind foot, and Nick grabbed the third, "Go on, Reddy, and eat your fill," cried the fairy man.

Which he did without any coaxing. There was never any more trouble after that, for the pigs all promised to be good.

one is filled with thrills. The players are up "on their toes" every minute and there is no doubt at all but that this week's show is the best so far this season presented by the Luttering-Luttering company.

The cast of the play follows: Ermintrude Marley, John Rowe; Lexington Daltymple, Georgia Neese; Harold Rand, Hazel Corinne; Hilary Rand, William Thompson; Jackham, Fred Woodbury; Vaughan, Edna Earl Andrews; Victor Browne, Malcolm MacLeod; Seymour Katz, John Taylor; Flash Fagan, Lloyd Sabine; St. Joe, Frank Farrara.

The story is of a girl who must, before reaching the age of 21, marry to inherit a fortune of $2,000,000. She views her approaching marriage with an old playmate with a sense of failure. In quest of excitement she meets with an accident which leaves her at the point of death. Fearing that she will die and her family lose the fortune, she marries the first man who comes to her aid, a man caught in the act of burglarizing her home. She recovers from her illness and refuses to divorce this man. From this point on the play is filled to the brim with excitement and mystery and the climax of the play finds the audience deeply interested and tense with the excitement furnished by the players.

Hazel Corinne, the willowy leading lady of the company, is right at home in the leading part of this play. As the girl eager for excitement and yet capable of "carrying-on" in a tense position, she has the house with her all the time.

Kathleen Keating, ingenue of the company, proves herself better than the average player in her skillful presentation of the part of "Ermintrude Marley." This part offers her an opportunity of showing her voice to Lowell audiences and she certainly satisfied them at last night's show.

The leading man, Victor Browne, plays the part of the crook in a decidedly realistic manner, portraying the last side in slouchy walk, colorful appearance, and talk. He furnishes considerable amusement to his part and, with Miss Corinne, shares the honors for making "The Reckless" the best presentation of the Luttering-Luttering players so far this season.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
Wall street, the financial melting pot of the world, where fortunes are made and wrecked, is the setting of "The Silent Partner," the photograph offering at the Merrimack Square theatre for the first part of the week.

John, the wife, in a decidedly realistic manner, portraying the last side in slouchy walk, colorful appearance, and talk. He furnishes considerable amusement to his part and, with Miss Corinne, shares the honors for making "The Reckless" the best presentation of the Luttering-Luttering players so far this season.
